Staff Assistance Corps Serves Red Cross

This is one of a series of stories telling about some of the services of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross. The series is published to aid in Marion county's part in the annual fund campaign. Sixty-five per cent of the contributions will remain in Marion county to carry on the chapter's work.

The staff assistance corps of the Marion County Red Cross chapter was organized April 22, 1942, with Miss Esther Guthery, now Mrs. Robert Mautz, as chairman of the corps and Mrs. J. Wendell Wiant as vice chairman.

The requirement for membership in the corps is a 20-hour lecture and lesson course, ending with an examination. The lectures are given by the service chairmen of the chapter and cover all phases of Red Cross work as a background for the work of the staff assistants. The lessons are designed to give a general knowledge of office procedure and public relations. Up to the present time, 31 women and girls have qualified for the corps.

In 1942 the minimum requirement of hours of service per year was 18. In 1943 it was raised to 50 hours because of the increase in the work. But in 1945 it was lowered and the minimum is now 30 hours a year.

The staff assistants work at the chapter office where they assist the office personnel. They also have charge of fund campaign headquarters and the files. An important part of their work is to act as a registrar at the "visitors desk" at at the City hospital on Monday afternoon and night, relieving the paid worker. The corps members also helped with registration when the mobile canteen unit was in Marion. They are further prepared in case of a disaster to take charge of registration and information centers.

Mrs. M. C. Murphy became chairman of the corps in April, 1945, succeeding Mrs. Mautz, who resigned. The staff assistance corps has assisted in all projects in which volunteer special services have participated and during the past year the 23 active members gave a total of 1,038 hours of volunteer service.

LIQUOR SYSTEM FLAWS NOTED

Former Director Says Pay Is Too Small, Changes Too Frequent.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 6—Ohio's liquor monopoly system has two major weaknesses—small salaries and frequent administrative changes—a former state liquor director told the senate investigating committee today.

Jacob B. Taylor, the former director and now business manager of Ohio State university, made the statement as the committee resumed its hearings inquiring into the liquor department.

Taylor declared the monopoly system puts an "unconscionable load on the state liquor director in expecting him to discharge the responsibilities of enforcement, licensing and distribution.

Lists Bigger Salaries

Terming salaries of liquor department employes "lamentable," Taylor testified that New Jersey's alcohol commissioner received $16,500 a year, the alcoholic commissioner in New York $12,000 and Pennsylvania's three liquor commissioners $10,000 each.

Ohio pays the three members of the state board of liquor control $4,500 a year each and the state liquor director $6,500.

Taylor did not oppose the monopoly system on the basis of those objections. He listed four strengths to be expected in state monopoly systems:

"Under state monopoly you may expect more orderly distribution; no advertisement by the state of specific brands; more uniform quality through chemical analysis; and a stability of operation."

Enforcement Not Part

Taylor stressed he believed enforcement and licensing were not a part of the monopoly system because both would be a state problem without monopoly.

Chairman Roscoe R. Walcutt of Columbus interrupted to ask if Taylor believed enforcement should be "handled separately."

Taylor said he had not made up his mind whether enforcement should be outside the liquor department or be placed under the board of liquor control, but added: "I would raise the serious question of whether enforcement shouldn't be separated from the distribution of liquor."

Committee Counsel Frank J. Collopy said Miss Minnie Thornton, head of the liquor department's permit clerical help, would follow Taylor on the stand.

Maynard Kimball, former agent in charge of the Cleveland district, testifies this afternoon.

Galion Railroad Worker Injured

Special to The Star

GALION, March 6—Lawrence Burton, 54, of near Galion, is in City hospital here as a result of an accident in the New York Central railroad yards here at 7:15 a. m. today. He fell from an engine tank at the coal dock. His injuries include fractured left shoulder, fractured ribs, cerebral concussion and internal chest injuries.

$7,967 Reported in Red Cross Campaign

First Accounting of Drive Progress; Emphasize Contributions To Be Made in Home Canvass.

Marion County Quota	$27,060.00
Raised to date	$ 7,967.57
To be raised	$19,092.43

Membership subscriptions in the amount of $7,967.57 were reported by workers at the first report meeting of the Marion County Red Cross chapter's 1947 campaign to raise $27,060, the county's quota of the national Red Cross goal to carry on the organization's work through the coming year. The meeting was held last night at campaign headquarters.

Reports were not complete in any of the various devisions and today's figures do not include any report of contributions from the villages and communities outside the city, the campaign chairman, Clarence Shockney, announced. The next report meeting will be Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at campaign headquarters at 193 East Center street.

Reports by the workers revealed that in many instances contributors still think that the campaign is being conducted as in previous years and that family contributions are being made by the men in the family at their places of employment. This, the workers emphasize, is not the case. Aside from the advance gifts and solicitation of management in factories and stores, evedyone is asked to make their contribution when solicited at home. The slogan, "Give Where You Live," means "give your contribution to the solicitor who calls at your home."

Reports by Divisions

The reports as given at last night's meeting are as follows:

Advance Gifts—Otis Porter, chairman, $1,149.34.

Industry — Kenneth Fields, chairman, $1,205.

Business — Harold Nussbaum, chairman, $2,033.50.

Residential—Mrs. John Dowler chairman. First ward, Mrs. Ray Klehm, chairman, $229.45; Second ward, Mrs. Elta Trickey, chairman, $427.67; Third ward, Mrs. Glen Kellogg, $341.26; Fourth ward, Mrs. Ralph Wright, $597.10; Fifth ward, Mrs. Jack E. Gickler,

TRUMAN CALLS FOR REDUCTION OF TRADE BANS

Tells Waco Audience U. S. Can Lead World Into Economic Peace or War.

By The Associated Press

WACO, Tex., March 6—President Truman, calling for a reduction of world trade barriers, declared today the United States "can lead the nations to economic peace or we can plunge them into economic war."

The President, en route home from a three-day good-will visit to Mexico, stopped here to receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws from Baylor university.

The Presidential plane, the "Sacred Cow," arrived at Municipal airport at Waco at 9:57 a. m. (CST), (10:57 a. m. Marion time). It came to a smooth stop before a group of about 150 dignitaries waiting to greet the President.

Stepping out of the plane in cold, rainy weather, he was on U. S. soil again for the first time since Monday morning.

Mr. Truman will fly to Washington later in the afternoon.

In a speech devoted entirely to the need for freer world trade, he:

1—Reaffirmed his faith in the reciprocal trade act which has been under attack by some Republicans in congress.

2—Struck out at those who would return to high tariffs and "economic isolation."

3—Welcomed continuation of bi-partisan support for a foreign policy which calls for cooperation in the economic as well as the political field.

4—Asserted that the alternative to "regimentation" of international commerce is the world trade charter to be considered by 18 nations at Geneva next month. The proposed international trade organization, he said, would apply to commercial relationships "the same principle of fair dealing that the United Nations is applying to political affairs."

Makes No Reference To Greece

(Mr. Truman made no reference in his remarks to Greece's appeal, with suport from Britain, for American economic aid. Last Tuesday, Secretary of State Marshall termed the "threatened collapse of the Greek economy a matter of primary importance" to the United States. He said details of action proposed would be announced by the President.)

"The negotiatoins at Geneva must not fail," he declared.

Truman and Party End Whirlwind Mexican Tour

The President and his party arose early at Mexico City to get set for the five-hour trip to Waco, thus winding up a whirlwind three-day good will visit to Mexico which left virtually everyone in the party exhausted except the President himself. It was one of the most strenuous out-of-town programs the Chief Executive ever has attempted.

Yesterday, for instance, he flew over a volcano 200 miles from here, visited some ancient pyramids on a 60-mile automobile drive, held a news conference, toured Mexico City, spoke to the U. S. colony of residents in this capital and had dinner with President Miguel Aleman of Mexico.

Maintains Good Humor

Through it all, President Truman maintained his high good humor and his vitality remained undiminished.

The presidential action which apparently impressed Mexicans the most occurred Tuesday when Mr. Truman placed a wreath at the base of the Mexican monument to Los Ninos Heroes (the heroic children), the Mexican cadets who fell in defense of Chapultepec citadel against U. S. forces in 1847. Mexicans present applauded heartily

CONDITION STILL SERIOUS

Donald Pashby of Clio, Mich., still is in a serious condition in City hospital following an automobile-train crash Sunday in Cardington, according to a report by hospital attendants. The attending physician said the condition is unchanged. He reported Friday's young group, all of Michigan, were killed in the accident which occurred when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a westbound New York Central passenger train in Cardington.

U. S. Blames Russia For New "Crisis"

Charge Soviets with "Unjustified" Meddling in Hungary.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—The United States today charged Soviet Russia with causing a political crisis by an "unjustified interference in Hungarian internal affairs."

A sharp note, delivered to the Russian, British and Hungarian governments, and to the Soviet military commander in Budapest, said that the Soviet high command by direct intervention has brought political difficulties in Hungary to a crisis.

An official summary of the note handed Moscow as Secretary of State Marshall traveled toward the Soviet capital, said this government deems "unwarranted" charges filed against parliamentary deputy Bela Kovacs, who was arrested last week by Russian soldiers

Kovacs until recently was secretary general of the Small Holders party, the moderate majority group in the Hungarian parliament, which the Communists and other parties have tried to oust.

Threatens Peoples Rights

The state department's note added:

"The pattern of recent political developments in Hungary appears to threaten the right of the people to live under a government of their own free choosing, for it involves foreign interference in the domestic affairs of Hungary in support of repeated aggressive attempts by Hungarian minority elements to coerce the popularly-elected majority * * *

"The United States government is opposed to this attempt to nullify the electroal mandate given by the Hungarian people."

The note said that the grounds given for the arrest of Kovacs "are allegations that he 'actively participated in the formation of subversive and anti-Soviet terror groups' and 'in organizing espionage directed against the Soviet Union.

Believes Charges Unwarranted

The Soviet action against Kovacs, the state department said, was "taken unilaterally without prior discussion with the United States and the United Kingdom representatives on the Allied control commission.

"On the basis of present information, the United States government believes these grounds and the charges are unwarranted."

The note said that in the opinion of the American government the effect of the "unjustified interference" will be "to support the efforts of a small group in Hungary to substitute a minority dictatorship for a responsible administration representative of the will of the Hungarian people as expressed in free and untrammeled elections."

The note charged that Hungarian Communists and leftist bloc members have tried to implicate representatives of the majority Small Holders party in a recently-revealed plot against the republic.

It said that "police and administrative authorities responsive to the dictates of the minority elements have utilized their powers of investigation * * * to conduct a

SPECIAL LEVY SET IN COUNTY

3-Tenths of Mill To Go On Realty for Conservancy District Expense.

Marion county real estate and public utilities will be assessed nearly $19,000 in the next December tax collection as a result of a three-tenths of a mill levy ordered by the board of directors of the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy district.

The special assessment, which will be for the tax year 1947 only and will be outside the ten-mill limitation, was announced today by Marion County Auditor Harry V. Mounts after receipt of a resolution adopted by the conservancy district board ordering the assessment in the 17 counties in the district.

Purpose Stated

Purpose of the levy, according to the district's directors, is to "file an official plan to fulfill the purposes for which the conservancy district was created and organized, including, among other things, the creation and maintenance of recreational facilities in connection with all flood protection and water conservation projects created within the boundaries of the district."

No details on what the official plan would include, were mentioned in the resolution.

The assessment follows overruling by the court in its February meeting of a 1934 entry limiting appropriations raised by the counties to $15,000 and places in ef-

MARSHALL'S PLANE ARRIVES IN PARIS

By The Associated Press

PARIS, March 6—Secretary of State Marshall arrived here today enroute to Moscow while another plane bearing John Foster Dulles and other advisers for the foreign ministers' conference landed in Berlin.

Marshall planned to continue to Berlin tomorrow. French Foreign Secretary Georges Bidault, also enroute to Moscow, was in Berlin today, while British Secretary Ernest Bevin spent a few hours in Warsaw.

A plane bearing 11 American news correspondents also reached Berlin.

Marshall flew from Washington by way of Bermuda and the Azores and reached Orly airfield at 12:40 p. m. (6:40 a. m. EST).

FULL LEWIS FINE STANDS; MINERS GIVEN REDUCTION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—The supreme court upheld 7 to 2 today the contempt convictions of John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers for refusing to call off their soft coal strike last November.

In an extraordinary midweek ruling that caught the nation by surprise, the high court in effect gave the Truman administration a smashing victory in its titantic struggle with Lewis and his miners.

There was no immediate reaction from Lewis.

The high tribunal ordered the $3,500,000 fine against the union cut to $700,000, but threatened to raise it back to the higher figure unless the miners show complete compliance with the lower court's no-strike order within five days.

The $10,000 fine against Lewis himself was affirmed without change.

Must Withdraw Termination

The court's order means that Lewis must withdraw the contract termination notice sent Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug last November. It was the government's contention that the contract runs through the period of government operation. This period must end by law on June 30.

When he sent the miners back to work pending a supreme court ruling, Lewis set April 1 as the end of the work period.

The penalties grew out of Lewis's refusal to obey a court order intended to head off the 17-day coal strike last November.

Decision Comes As Surprise

The supreme court's long-waited decision was announced as the court met for a regular argument session.

Ordinarily, the highest tribunal announces decisions only on Mondays. Today's action caught all parties by surprise.

Chief Justice Vinson delivered the opinion of the majority.

Justices Murphy and Rutledge wrote dissenting opinions.

Justice Frankfurter wrote a concurring opinion. Justices Black and Douglas each wrote an opinion in which they concurred in part and dissented in part.

The court majority ruled that neither the Norris-LaGuardia act nor the war labor disputes act barred the government from obtaining the injunction which resulted in the contempt proceedings.

It was this injunction that Lewis and the miners were accused of flouting.

After the case had been appealed directly to the supreme court, Lewis suddenly ordered his miners back to work on Dec. 7. He said he wanted the supreme court freed of any public hysteria in weighing the issues.

Chief Justice Vinson in his opinion said that the trial court properly found the defendants in the Lewis case guilty of both criminal and civil contempt.

Condition Attached to Cut

The majority specified that in cutting the union's fine to $700,000 it was doing so on this condition:

The union must pay an additional fine of $2,800,000 unless it shows within five days after the supreme court issues its mandate that it has fully complied with the lower court's order.

"The defendant union," Chief Justice Vinson said, "can effect full compliance only by withdrawing unconditionally the notice given by it signed by John L. Lewis, to J. A. Krug, secretary of the interior, terminating the Krug-Lewis agreement as of midnight, Nov. 20, and by notifying at the same time, its members of such withdrawal." * * *

"We well realize," Vinson went on, "the serious proportions of the fines here imposed on the defendant union.

Serious Threat to U. S.

"But a majority feels that the course taken by the union carried with it such a serious threat to orderly constitutional government, and to the economic and social welfare of the nation, that a fine of substantial size is required in order to emphasize the gravity of the offense of which the union was found guilty.

"The defendant Lewis, it is true, was the aggressive leader in the studied and deliberate disobedience with the order of the district court; but as the record shows, he acted in open court after the representatives of the union had been warned of the consequences of [illegible] gravity of the miners' conduct; but we can not ignore the effect of their action upon the rights of other citizens, or the effect of their action upon our system of government."

Calls Ban In Freedom

The chief justice asserted that "the gains, social and economic, which the miners and other citizens have realized in the past are ultimately due to the fact that they enjoy the rights of free men under our system of government."

"Upon the maintenance of that system," Vinson added, "depends the very existence of [illegible]

"The defendant Lewis, it is true, was the aggressive leader in the studied and deliberate disobedience with the order of the district court; but as the record shows, he acted in open court after the representatives of the union had been warned of the consequences of [illegible]

41,122 BOOK TOTAL LISTED FOR LIBRARY

January Report Issued for City and County.

Eighty-two new books were added to the Carnegie Public Library in January, and one hundred forty-nine volumes were withdrawn, making a total of 41,122 volumes available, according to a recently released report. YOUR INCOME TAX

Husband - Wife Filing

(This is the tenth of 12 stories explaining who must do what about filing his income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, March 6 — Here are points to remember about husband-wife filing of 1946 income tax returns by March 15.

A husband gets a $500 exemption for himself and he can claim another $500 exemption for his wife if she had no income.

James Marlow

If she had $500 or more income, she must file, either separately or jointly with her husband.

In such a case, if she files separately, she claims her own $500 exemption and the husband claims only his $500 exemption.

If they file jointly, they claim a total exemption of $1,000.

If the wife has less than $500 income, she doesn't have to file a return but, no matter how small that income was, if she doesn't file—

Her husband can't claim the usual $500 exemption for her and, of course, since she isn't filing, she can't claim her own $500 exemption.

Two Points Important

Keep these two things in mind

1. Treasury experts say that where a wife has income less than $500 — and she and her husband are going to file a return — they'll save money by making a joint return.

2. Where husband and wife can file jointly on Form W-2, the withholding statement, they should do so. It will save them time and effort, and for this reason:

The collector, by law, goes over their return and must figure out which is cheaper for them, a single or joint return. He gives them the benefit of the cheaper way.

If you're not in those two groups above, try both ways—single and joint returns — before deciding which you'll give the collector as your 1946 return.

No Simple Answer

The reason for trying it both ways is this: There's no simple answer to the question "Do husbands and wives save money by filing single or joint returns?".

A joint return may save for one couple by giving them full benefit of exemptions. It may cost another couple money by boosting them into a higher tax bracket.

If the combined income of a couple was under $5,000, they can file jointly on Form W-2 or the 1040 short-form or the long-form, depending upon their reason for making a choice.

If their combined income was $5,000 or more, but individually less, they can file separately on Form W-2 or the 1040 short-form, or jointly on the long-form.

Allowed 10 Per Cent Deduction

When they file separately on Form W-2 or the 1040 short-form, each is allowed a deduction of about 10 per cent for personal expenses. It's already figured into the tax table used with those two forms.

When they file jointly on Form W-2 or the 1040 short-form, they are allowed one deduction of about 10 per cent but it is 10 per cent of their combined income.

When they file separately on the 1040 long form, with the income of each $5,000 or more, each is allowed a standard deduction of $500 for personal expenses.

If they file jointly on the long-form, they are allowed only one standard deduction of $500 from their combined income, not a $500 deduction for each of them.

But if one uses the long-form and itemizes deductions, the other must use it and itemize, too.

2 Exemptions Last Year

Last year husbands and wives had to think of two kinds of exemptions when they filed a return. A normal tax exemption and a surtax exemption.

That's because, in figuring the tax, you had to work out, step-by-step, the normal tax and the surtax. There's been a change.

This year, in the actual figuring, the normal tax and the surtax have been combined.

So now you think only of one $500 exemption for the wife and one for the husband: Whether you can claim only one or both and deduct them from your income before it is taxed with the combined tax.

That's why, to make it easy on you, no distinction was made in this story between normal and surtax exemptions for husbands and wives.

CAREY MAN FREED

UPPER SANDUSKY — John Risner of nearby Carey, charged with breaking and entering, was found not guilty in a jury trial conducted here before Judge Russell H. Kear. The jury, six men and six women, were out only 45 minutes. Attorney William J. Hunter represented the defendant and the case of the state was presented by Prosecuting Attorney Russell C. Price.

Snow Drift Causes Mishap Near Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 6—Less than 400 feet from where a stock truck plunged into a ditch after striking a snow drift Monday another mishap caused by drifted snow caused damage to passenger automobile and two tractor-trailer trucks Tuesday. A dozen head of hogs were killed in the first accident. In the other, a car driven by Obie Goines of Sandusky skidded and overturned as it approached the snow drift. The two trucks jack-knifed in the road in an attempt to avoid a collision immediately after the passenger car accident. There were no injuries. Traffic was blocked for considerable time while the vehicles were being removed. The trucks belonged to the DeCarlo Trucking Co. of Rochester, N. Y.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

GOATS?

Editor of The Star: I would like to submit an open letter to Congressman Jenkins of Ohio'

The other day I heard you on the radio explain the need for so-called protective tariffs. How do you explain the fact that our own capitalists, ih order to avoid high labor costs and make more profits, will take their capital to Europe, Asia or any other backward section of the world, produce the identical product or article, bring it here, and even after tariffs be able to sell it for less than that made in this country—and make more money? Are we to blame the Europeans, Asiatics or what have you, for this; or are we, the people, to hold this against our own capitalists? Where is the protection for labor in your tariff schemes? How are you going to prevent Ford, General Motors, General Electric, Singer Sewing Machine, DuPonts, Standard Oil, etc, from doing this sort of thing?

It seems to me that we, the American people, are the goats, no matter what!

Talk in Washington, Moscow, London or Paris of compromises has not been reflected by acts in Germany, where zonal gulfs have steadily widened, accompanied by a violent Russian propaganda campaign against the western powers.

Brief Summation Given

Briefly, the position of the powers in Germany can be summed up as follows:

Russia—Wants political unification under Russia's definition of "democratic processes." Wants economic unification if this means Russia would get reparations from the western zones without interfering with her own reparations program in her zone.

Britain—Favors central political administration, but with safeguards for political parties. Not so strong for federalized states as the Americans. Determined Germany must pay her own way before reparations are taken out, and will probably ask for an increased level of industry.

United States—Favors a central government, but one curbed by a strong federal state system. Believes political unification can come only with economic unity. Determined Germany must be rebuilt to pay her own way, and that reparations must come second to an import-export program aimed at self-sufficiency.

France—Opposes a central political government unless under direct four-power supervision. Favors a system of loosely federalized German states with strong local powers. Opposes a high industrial level, wants factories removed to neighboring countries with German supplying the coal to run them, and wants an internationalized Ruhr coupled with considerable boundary amputation.

Reports on France Doubted

Reports in Paris and Washington that France and Russia will combine at Moscow against Britain and America are difficult to substantiate since they are almost exact opposites regarding Germany.

Although the Allies have failed to reach agreements on denazification, centralization, democratization and demilitarization, the key dispute is economic. It goes back to the economic conceptions of each of the four powers.

Russia ties economics and politics together in state-owned enterprises. The United States believes in capitalistic free enterprise and separation of economic and political life. Socialistic Britain sees advantages in a socialized Germany. France, overrun twice in this century by Germans, puts security above all and believes Germany should be de-industrialized.

Despite these opposing views, there is a key in Germany which could start a settlement in this field, and that is "reparations."

Number One Soviet Interest

Russia has clearly indicated that reparations are her number one interest. Whenever it comes to a question of getting increased reparations and making enemies in Germany or giving up reparations in an effort to woo Germany to the communist cause, Moscow always takes the reparations, sometimes much to the embarrassment of its representatives here.

Russia's driving need for goods has outweighed all her other policies in Germany so far and undoubtedly will continue to do so.

When the war ended, the Russian zone was the only one of the four in Germany that could be made self-sufficient. It had a food surplus (the only zone which did) factories with certain amounts of raw materials on hand, and enough coal nearby to get started.

The Russians started moving factories to Russia. This did not work, so they kept the factories in Germany and took reparations from production, using German labor. They hoped to get factories for Russia from western zone reparations. But America and Britain halted these deliveries because Russia was not interested in putting Germany on her own feet through economic mergers and carrying out an agreed level of industry.

It was pointed out the Russians could not expect to take reparations in goods from their zone in Germany and factories from the west, and leave America and Britain permanently deficient areas.

The Russian reparations policy within the Soviet zone ran for a year or more on current stocks. Then the Russians began to need steel and other goods, so they beat the drums for economic unity and demanded that the zones be united as specified at Potsdam—but on Russian terms.

In preparation for this, the Russians formed the giant Soviet I.G., perhaps the largest cartel ever to exist in Germany, home of cartels. (At the same time, the Soviets carried out a campaign in the press and radio charging the western powers with failure to break up cartels.)

Soviet I.G., according to authoritative reports, comprises 200 former German firms and more than 40 per cent of key industry in the eastern zone. It is owned by the Soviet state and produces for the Soviet state.

The Russians are now ready for "economic unification" and probably will press for it as Moscow.

Leaves West Holding Bag

But at the same time she is expected to insist the Soviet I.G. is Russian owned and its production should go to Russia for reparations. This would leave the west to supply consumer goods to the eastern zone.

The Russians are insisting further that their demands for reparations be satisfied before goods are placed on the import-export program to pay occupation costs.

In this situation, the western Allies are faced with the prospect of not only paying more than $500,000,000 yearly for occupation costs to keep their zone populations alive, but of taking over the "deficit" in the eastern zone due to the fact that 40 per cent of its production is being drained off to Russia.

Some American and British officials express fear that, in an effort to achieve "quick results," their countries may make disastrous concessions at Moscow.

"No Time for Haste"

"This is no time for quick decisions," one official said. "We in the west, through our bizonal merger, can see light ahead for the first time.

"We can see ahead where we can lift this burden on our countries, but if we take on an additional burden by agreeing to Russian demands at their terms, we may well be sunk."

(John Hightower, reporting yesterday on the American attitude, said there were no indications that the U. S. was prepared to compromise with Moscow.)

There is every indication that financial considerations alone will force Britain and America to stick by their demands that exports to help pay occupation costs must come first in any merger, and Russia has shown no indications of giving up her "reparations first" policy.

Some officials feel that in six months Russian exhaustion of her zone's stocks and raw materials will force her to come around to the western view. Others feel that the Russian answer will be to tie eastern Germany to Russia leaving the country split in half.

This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Hard To Beat

Very Easy to Make. No Cooking. Saves Big Money.

No matter what you've been using for coughs due to colds, you'll be the first to admit that this surprising relief, mixed in your own kitchen, is hard to beat, for real results.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of splendid cough relief—about four times as much for your money. Tastes fine—children love it—and it never spoils.

You can feel this home mixture taking right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Raises soreness and difficult breathing, and let's you sleep. Once tried, you'll swear by it.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Just try it, and if not satisfied, your money will be refunded.

Here We Go Again

THE United States is going to be asked to put up the money to protect Greece from communism . . .

This is an old story. During the depression, the United States put up money to protect itself from communism. Under the theory that unemployment was almost as serious as war, national expenditures to fight the communism that unemployment was going to create rose from $30 per capita at the beginning of the 1930's to $70 at the end. During the next 15 years, per capita receipts jumped from $33 to $333, which still wasn't enough to overtake government spending. The national debt swelled from 35 billion to more than 70 billion, from 1930 to 1940, then to almost 200 billion at the height of the war.

During World War II, a real emergency, expenditures rose beyond control, to a wartime peak of $719 per capita in 1945. Taxpayers were encouraged to be of good cheer. Soon the war would be over, they were told. The spending rate would be cut to the bone. There would be tax relief. The debt would be reduced and deficit financing terminated.

The war is over. But the cost of government is like a toy balloon that has been blown up too often. It isn't going back to its former size. The peacetime budget proposed by the White House is 37½ billion dollars, approximately 18 times the cost of government before the free spenders began to blow up the balloon in the 1930's. Taxes are high. The national debt is still in the financial stratosphere. Republicans in congress who talk about cutting as little as six billion dollars from the budget and reducing income taxes by a fifth are hooted at. And now, unless all present signs are misleading, the budget-cutters are about to collide head-on with another spending spree.

This one is going to be justifed in various ways, but fundamentally all of them will add up to the argument that the United States must ransom the Anglo-American cause in the Middle East. The United States is going to take the rap for Great Britain's postwar exhaustion coming and going; it is going to subsidize Britain directly and it is going to inherit some of Britain's imperial commitments.

The old story now begins to repeat itself. The United States has been putting up money to support the international fight against communism for 15 years—longer than that, if the expenditures before the 1930's are included. During the depression, homegrown communists were going to take over unless the government did thus and so. During the early part of World War II, Russian Communists were going to take over. Then, ironically, the Russian Communists became allies, but now things are back to normal again.

The United States is supposed to finance the fight against communism in Greece, Turkey, Afghanistan, Iran, Iraq and points east, west, north and south. American dollars are supposed to neutralize communism in France, Italy, Romania, Germany, Mexico, England and you name it. The United States, being the last great hope of capitalist enterprise, must put up its national wealth unstintingly without collateral because if it doesn't the communists will get all of us as sure as Henry Wallace's middle name is Agard. That's the story. Maybe it's true.

But whether it's true or not—and we doubt it—the whole thing boils down to this: that here we go again on another spending spree. There must be another side to this proposition of saving the United States—and capitalism—by playing financial wet nurse. There are limits to the American capacity to put up wealth that it never gets back, and the limits are being reached faster than the financial masterminds in Washington are likely to admit.

Before the United States squares away to advance umpsteen more billion dollars to ransom capitalism from communism, or whatever other ism may happen to constitute the emergency of the moment, someone had better start giving thought to what happens when the American billions are all gone. Who is going to save the United States?

The Schismatic South

REPORTS from Georgia tell of sharp division in the state Democratic party over the Talmadge fiasco—a division that started a year ago when Gene Talmadge headed up a political reaction from the relatively enlightened party leadership of Ellis G. Arnall. This is additional evidence on the subject of the schismatic south.

In Georgia, in Mississippi, in Tennessee, Texas, the Carolinas and Florida dissident Democrats are struggling to break away from each other. Bilboism, the Talmadge affair, the discreditable role of Tennessee's McKellar in the Lilienthal hearings, the growth of an educated southern minority resentful of their section's reputation for backwardness—these are the circumstances for a political division. There are millions of southern Democratic followers tired of following the Bilbos, McKellars and Talmadges.

The South's one-party system may be reaching the end of the trail.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Britain's Economic Woes Blur Moscow Talks.

WASHINGTON, March 6—General Marshall is flying to Moscow in a blur of private official lament about the economic breakup in Britain. When the President held his preliminary conference with the Republican and Democratic leaders, not a person present would talk afterward. The reporters suspected the group were too scared to reveal anything as they usually do.

Yet surprisingly enough, the British themselves have been the loudest of lamenters over their own condition. The public appeal of Bevin to turn the Greek situation over to us was plainly to be an alarmist gesture, his failing power and prestige in Turkey, the situation in the Dardanelles, which approach the Suez, Egypt and the Orient, made it rather plain to everyone here that the Bevin appeal was really much broader than merely the Greek situation. It was a plea for American assumption of leadership to save the collapsing British empire and the British position throughout Europe east of the Rhine. Officials susceptible to calamities immediately drew visions of the British collapse permitting Russia to envelop Europe and Asia.

The implications of this possibly overdrawn situation were not apparent to the public. Actually the British have only about 8,000 troops in Greece. Their cost is not considerable, and even a Socialist failure in Britain might finance it. But the Greeks are seeking a $250,000,000 loan and what the British really want from us is financial backing for the British political position in Greece. Simultaneously Mr. Hoover has returned from Europe proclaiming the need of Germany for $475,000,000 for food.

Now our original $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain was supposed to pull her through all financial hazards until 1948. By the next year they figured their imports would be sufficient to sustain their economy. But prices have risen in the United States since the loan was made, and the British complain (I have not figured it out myself) that they have been able to obtain only half as much food, grain and materials here for their money. Certainly their Socialism has not only failed to produce a larger volume of exports, but cannot even produce enough coal to sustain themselves.

The figures they offer are these: If they could get 500 million pounds from exports, 200 million from their investments, and 100 million from shipping profits, they would have a balance of 800 millions on the credit side. As a result of high prices here and production deficiencies they are 350 million pounds short.

This is the pivotal point of the matter. It is a financial crux, not one of diplomacy. This distinction is not generally understood, at least not in Washington. The British have made an Anglo-French alliance, upon which they count for French support, although the French government is too worried with Communism now itself to be of much help.

There is every prospect that we may come to the alliance method of bolstering our support. We may have a French-American alliance, especially if the Moscow conference runs the expected course, without sufficient results to guarantee our aims and security, there may be other alliances.

Yet fundamentally the British diplomatic policy is in accord with the policy of the United States, and there has been no breakdown in her desire to pursue such a policy with us. I have heard Bevin has called General Marshall on the telephone several times a day recently. Furthermore we are sending a good man in Lewis Douglas as ambassador to London. He was the personal choice, I understand, of Dean Acheson, the assistant state secretary. Marshall and Truman accepted the recommendation of this well known anti-New Dealer without objection. So internal relations are certainly developing cordially and satisfactorily.

Thus this country is being faced again with a plea to bail Europe out. The proposition which the British are making primarily requires our money, not any extra diplomatic skill or backing, except such as would ensue from loans and advances, (indeed the British have seemed to some authorities to be leading up to another advance for themselves). We face a dilemma of finance, not unlike the one after the last war. My information suggests the Truman administration will certainly meet each case as it arises, however, and not create a lump sum grab bag.

Such a condition is naturally building up strong inner sentiment here for a coalition government in Britain. Attlee could not wait until the war was over to get Churchill out. The current prime minister has never had an impressive following in this country. He has tried his Socialism fully and cannot get enough production to sustain the economy. (Personally I believe it is impossible to get production out of Socialism simply because it destroys all private initiative.) While the Conservative party has no great youthful leaders who have much popular following either, a coalition would at least make the British crisis look like a crisis, and not merely another Socialist attempt to borrow more from capitalism directly or indirectly through Greece.

Out of the Frying-pan Into the Family Safe

With hog prices skyrocketing, Washington warns that pork chops shortly may sell for a dollar a pound.

We'll have to change the nursery rhyme: It's an expensive little piggy who goes to market these days . . . and the customer who stays home.

If pork prices keep rising, the only time most people will see any is when congress rolls out the barrel.

Of course, pork chops have sold for a dollar a pound in some parts of the country before . . . but always in Confederate money.

Hog raisers have revised the old saw from pigs is pigs to pigs is precious. As a result, pork chops are becoming strictly a rich man's dish while the poor struggle along on relatively inexpensive items like T-bones and pheasant.

Nobody seems to heed my warnings, but this is fast becoming a nation divided . . . millionaires and vegetarians.

Faint Hopes for Moscow

By RAYMOND MOLEY

FEW informed people expect the German problem to be solved at the forthcoming Moscow meeting. The guess is that some progress will be made; that the whole matter will move on to another foreign ministers' meeting at London and then come back to the UN in New York next fall. This delay will be due not only to the complexity of the German issue, but to Russia's great interest in delaying final peace settlements for some months, a year or even longer.

Some of the conclusions in Herbert Hoover's report on Germany make it clear that the former president anticipates delays from Russia. His report leaves out of consideration the Russian and French zones in Germany. It is left to the Russians to supply the needs of the 23,000,000 persons in their zone. The report also assumes that no food from the Russian zone will be delivered to the British and American zones. Such deliveries were one of the conditions of the Potsdam settlement. In return, Russia was to get industrial equipment from western Germany as reparations.

Provides for Exchange

The Hoover proposal would give us, in return for our food deliveries, first priority on exports from the British and American zones. This does not make any easier the negotiations at Moscow, but it may be a strong argument in bringing Russia to agree to a real economic unification of Germany.

Russia has learned a lot of things since Potsdam which may bring her to reasonable terms. The Soviet government has found that German machinery delivered to Russia is not the value as had been expected. Every month that passes lowers the value of such equipment. By the time the stuff promised at Potsdam is delivered, it is virtually obsolete. It would be enormously more useful to Russia to buy new and improved machinery from the United States. If the Russians realize this, we may find them more than eager to move toward better relations with the United States.

Faces Food Shortage

Another compelling fact is the difficulty Russia is having in feeding her own people. There is a great food shortage in some parts of Russia. The export of food to the Russian zone in Germany is very difficult. The rebuilding of the shattered cities and factories in southern Russia is far behind the schedule. The government finds it easy to make plans, but hard to work them out.

Hoover points out that 3,000,000 prisoners are still in Russian work camps and smaller numbers are in Britain, France and Belgium. These workers are exceedingly important to Russia. Hence, the incentive to delay peace lies in the desire to keep German labor as long as possible.

The fact that motives for and against peace move at cross purposes confronts the Moscow meeting with a situation quite unlike that faced at Potsdam or even at the recent meeting in New York. New plans, formulas and agreements must be made. If things move slowly at Moscow, observers here will have to be patient. We shall have to be satisfied with slow and expensive progress.

U. S. Policy Faces Critical Test

By WALTER LIPPMANN

WE have now come to the critical test of British-American postwar policy in relation to the Soviet Union. The general theory of that policy has been to contain the expansion of Soviet power and influence by supporting opposition to it around the immense periphery from Manchuria and Korea through the Middle East, the Balkans and central Europe.

The eastern Asiatic sector of this diplomatic front has been an American responsibility. It includes the occupation of Japan, of southern Korea, and the Chinese problem.

In southern Asia and the Middle East, including Greece, the maintenance of the front has been a British responsibility. In central Europe, that is Germany, Austria and Italy, it has been a joint anglo-American responsibility.

This winter we have had to recede in China, having found it impossible with the means at our disposal to influence or control effectively the internal affairs of China. The British are now liquidating their position in India, in Egypt, in Greece, and by implication in Turkey.

It would be imprudent not to suppose that since they are unable to support the relatively small burden of Greece, they will not be able to support much longer the very much greater burden of their zone in Germany.

Thus, if we look at the whole situation, we see the breakdown of the Anglo-American policy of peripheral containment. We were unable to make it work effectively in China and the British are no longer able to make it work in the Middle East.

Manpower Unavailable

That is not surprising. Britain and America do not have the military manpower which would be necessary to exert effective authority directly on the vast circle around the frontiers of the Soviet Union. Therefore, the maintenance of this diplomatic front has depended upon indirect action, upon the support of local authorities which were to be the instruments of the policy.

In China the front was to be maintained via Chiang Kai-shek and the Kuomintang. In the Middle East it was to be maintained via the League of Arab States. In Greece via the government of King George.

These instruments of the policy have not proved to be effective or reliable. As the position has deteriorated, the idea is proposed that the United States can still make the whole diplomatic front stand up if it will put enough money behind it; the deficiency of Anglo-American man power and the weakness of the local political rulers are to be cured by the application of sufficient funds. We are to hold all these impoverished and disorderly regions against Communism by subsidizing them.

What this would mean, if it were attempted, may be measured by the estimate that to hold south Korea alone will require over a period of three years about one a quarter billion dollars for the army of occupation plus a minimum program of relief and rehabilitation. And Korea is only a pin point on the huge periphery.

Re-examine Policy

Is it not evident that we have to re-examine the policy itself? Do we not have to ask ourselves whether it is the only way in which the Soviet expansion can be halted?

If it is, as so many think, the only way, then the outlook is dark indeed. For we have failed in China and the British are failing in their sector. There is little ground for thinking that the United States alone can do what Britain and America together have not been able to do.

The situation on virtually every part of this diplomatic front is worse than when we undertook to maintain it.

The alternative to this policy of dispersing our power and influence is to concentrate them at the key points—at Germany and western Europe, at Turkey, and in Japan. Then, instead of resisting passively the Soviet expansion by subsidizing a dubious collection of puppet and satellite governments all over the Eurasian continent, we could from western Europe, from Turkey, and from Japan exert a direct leverage upon Moscow.

The place to stop the Greek guerrillas who are trained and equipped in Yugoslavia is in Moscow, first by direct diplomatic negotiation with the Soviet government, and if that fails, by going to the United Nations Security Council and raising the issue whether Russia will or will not act as guardian of the peace in her own sphere of influence.

To raise the issue that way has its obvious risks. But the risks are no greater than to get entangled in a Balkan war by using the government of King George as our chosen instrument.

A policy of concentration at the key points instead of one of dispersion around the periphery requires more boldness. But at least it has some chance of succeeding. It offers some prospect of a decision by which the Soviet expansion will be stopped at its source. The present policy offers no prospect of any decision, and every prospect that we shall squander our power and our influence.

Tung Oil

Tung oil, or China wood oil, unsurpassed as a fast-drying and water-proofing ingredient for paints, now streams in record volume from pressing mills near tung groves in the Gulf Coast states, notes National Geographic Society. Of the 52 principal Agriculture's 1946 annual summary, the tung nut shows the fastest current expansion. The domestic harvest, less than one ton in 1924, climbed to 6,200 tons in 1943 and 47,300 tons in 1946.

Before World War II, the wild tung trees of the Yangtze basin slopes between Hankow and Ichang were the source of as much as 150,000 tons of tung oil a year. Though half or more of the output was shipped to the United States, even then the supply was less than the demand.

War put an end to Chinese exports of tung oil. During eight years of Japanese occupation of China's coast, few new tung trees were planted, and many old trees were cut down for firewood. Tung-oil culture was started in the United States by Dr. David Fairchild, agricultural explorer for the Department of Agriculture and a trustee of the National Geographic Society. The principal tung growing band lies a few miles inland from the Gulf of Mexico.

Four-fifths of the tung oil is used in top-grade paints and varnishes.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Attempt To Explain a School Teachers' Strike.

Little Emma.—Mommer, why did those school teachers leave the schoolrooms?

Mom.—They went out on strike, my dear.

Emma.—What did they strike for?

Mom.—For more money.

Emma.—Do school teachers need money?

Mom.—Of course.

Emma.—I thought they lived on red apples.

Mom.—So did too many people, my child.

Emma.—What do school teachers use money for?

Mom.—Clothing, rent and food. They eat like anybody else. How did you think they lived?

Emma.—I just never thought about it.

Mom.—I guess that's the way with most of us. Teachers have to have money, too, for recreation and so forth. They like fun now and then.

Emma.—Gosh, are teachers ever supposed to have fun, mommer?

Mom.—I don't know, but it's a good idea.

Emma.—But is it all right for school teachers to quit school and go out on a strike?

Mom.—There's a difference of opinion, child. Some people hold that a teacher has the right to quit school when conditions do not suit her.

Emma.—Then why can't I quit school too? Lots of times the conditions don't suit me, mommer.

Mom.—Be sensible, dear.

Emma.—I saw my teacher in a picket line. It seemed awful funny.

Mom.—Yes, I admit it is hard to reconcile her with a picket line, my sweet.

Emma.—She was making faces and booing.

Mom.—Maybe it was justified.

Emma.—Once when I made faces and booed she kept me after school and made me write "I am a very naughty girl" five hundred times. And I was justified.

Mom.—When teacher made faces and booed she was probably very excited and lost her head.

Emma.—But she told me I should never lose my head.

Mom.—Try and understand that in this case teacher's patience ran out.

Emma.—But she always tells the pupils they must never lose patience. And, mommer, she was waving her arms and yelling "We will fight all summer if necessary." I got kept after school lots of times for fighting, and only in the winter.

Mom.—Teacher was fighting for fair play.

Emma.—That's what I told her I was fighting for, mommer, but she said fighting was bad anyway. She said there was nothing that couldn't be settled by peaceful means. I'm all mixed up, mumsy.

Mom.—I can hardly blame you.

Emma.—Don't teachers get much money for their work?

Mom.—Far from it. How much do you suppose they get?

Emma.—As much as Lana Turner, Merle Oberon, Ann Baxter and Gene Tierney?

Mom.—Certainly not. Teachers get chicken feed compared to movie actresses, hat check girls, models, dance hall hostesses and the like.

Emma.—But aren't teachers more important?

Mom.—Of course, my child!

Emma.—Then I don't understand. Please explain it to me, mummy.

Mom.—The girl next door is yoo-hooing. Run out and play. This whole thing is getting too deep for us!

Still Grinning

By TRUMAN TWILL

Everything is still ipsy-pipsy with the folks in the ads. They're grinning from here to there over their washing machines, streamlined sinks, electric irons, furniture, breakfast foods, post-war materials, insurance policies and what not—always grinning.

Folks in the ads live in a happy world. The only time they ever feel less than happy is when they've been naughty and haven't taken a jolt of effervescent stuff to make them feel as good as new, or neglected to swallow a lightning-action sedative pill.

If they do have any problems, a good hot bath with the right kind of soap and the right kind of goo applied in the right places afterward will fix everything as slick and pretty as a new convertible, or they can take out more insurance or send for a pamphlet that will make everything simple.

Life for the folks in the ads is a mad round of excitement. Their new coats swing in the back. Their new cars run indefintely on a cup of gasoline. They can put everything but their Aunt Edna in their new refrigerators. Their new kitchens are so clean a man must wear a gauze mask to walk through them. The new brassieres are wonder-workers and the new cleaners clean without effort.

The bright-new-world stuff, according to the ads, won't get dirty in the first place, but if it does it's "suds-happy," as happy as the slap-happy people posturing and leering at all us poor suckers from the ads, inviting us to run right to the nearest store and buy something at two prices, or at least to send in the name of the store.

These strangers have a lot of new words to tell us about their junk, cute, precious words that would lead to a shooting incident if anyone ever used them outside of an advertisement. Dresses are bertha-collared. Stuff is winter-cool and pepper-hot. All clothing this year is free-swinging.

Mechanical gadgets are automatic, or semi-automatic, which means if anything goes wrong you're out of luck, or semi-out of luck. Everything is the last word in modern beauty, meaning it looks like something out of a barbershop. All institutions are reliable, courteous, patient, understanding, hospitable, progressive, conservative, alert and crammed with experts.

No wonder the folks in the ads keep smiling. They're smiling about a joke they have among themselves about people who can't figure out what's so confounded funny about the people in the ads. If the people knew how funny it was they'd laugh, too.

Knot-Tying Business Picks Up

NASHUA, Ia.—The storied Little Brown Church in the Vale near here was the scene of 1,143 weddings last year.

It was the first time since the peak year of 1940, when 1,550 ceremonies were performed there, that the figure has passed the thousand mark. Gasoline rationing and the manpower shortage reduced the number of weddings during the war years.

CLEVELAND BALLS OPERA PROGRAM

Metropolitan To Return for 22nd Appearance.

The Metropolitan Opera company will return to Cleveland for its twenty-second season in a week's engagement at Public auditorium April 7 through April 12. As in former years patrons will have an opportunity to hear their favorite stars in title roles and this season will bring the first Cleveland appearance of two of the newest stars, Set Svanholm, the Swedish tenor whose debut last fall in New York brought the acclaim of the critics and Ferruccio Tagliavini, the Italian tenor whose New York debut in January was a sensation.

The week's program will open on Monday night with the opera "Lakme," with Lily Pons in the title role. For the remainder of the week the following operas are scheduled: "Lohengrin," with Set Svanolm and Helen Traubel, Tuesday night; "Faust," Charles Kullman and Dorothy Kirsten, Wednesday night; "LaTraviata," Eleanor Steber, Thursday night; "Hansel and Gretel," Rise Stevens, Friday afternoon; "Boris Godunoff," Pinza, Friday night; "Madame Butterfly," Ferruccio Tagliavini, Saturday afternoon, and "Aida," with Daniza Ilitsch, Saturday night.

U. S. To Prevent Cut In Britain's Meat Ration

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said yesterday this country has agreed to supply Great Britain with enough meat by this spring to prevent a cut in the present meat ration there.

The shipments will be limited to beef and possibly to surplus turkeys the department is acquiring under a grower price support program. No pork will be included, Anderson said, because of short domestic supplies.

Anderson said also that the United States will help the British build up a stock pile of wheat before this fall so that nation will not be as dependent upon imports during the winter season, when transportation difficulties mount

These plans were disclosed by Anderson at a news conference after he had conferred for the second time this week with John Strachey British food minister

Oceola Church Finds Auction of Donated Articles Good Way To Raise Building Funds

The engineers donating their serv- were Vance Hoover of Lees- and Clyde Heinle and Ray members of the Oceola community; women of the community served lunch and their proceeds, amount- to $174 was placed in the building treasury. Those who had saleable articles to contribute gave up the lack by donating money. An order for 200 baby chicks, sold at the auction, was delivered early this week. Orders for baby chicks were contributed by four different hatcheries in the neighborhood.

This year's planning is looking ahead to 1951 when the Oceola church will observe its centennial year. The only church in the community it has a membership number of 136. The one-room structure has no facilities for rec- reation or holding class meetings or other social events. Present plans include a basement which will be equipped with a kitchen, modern restroom and other con- veniences and improvements. Plans, now in the making, will be completed soon.

The building program was launched in January when the board of trustees and congrega- tion met to discuss the needed im- provements. The trustees, with an advisory committee are in charge of the plans and will con- tinue to represent the church members in the work. The plans are being drawn by O. E. Gibson, a member of the advisory board who has training along this line.

Await Start of Work

The work will start as soon as conditions permit and the plans are approved by the CPA and conference board of trustees, the pastor, Rev. Strausser, said.

Some of the material in the present building is from the orig- inal church. It has been reroofed with slate. The original church was built in 1851.

Rev. Strausser took over the pastorate of the Oceola and Mt. Zion churches in September of 1945. He was born and reared at Deshler, Henry county, and re- ceived his first appointment to the ministry in 1926. While taking his seminary and college work he served as pastor at Bonebrake and prior to going to Oceola served churches at Hicksville and Lake- view. He went to Oceola from Helena, O. A graduate of Bone- brake Theological Seminary at Dayton in 1932 he received his bachelor of theology degree from McKinley-Roosevelt college in 1943.

During the war years Rev. Strausser had a pastorate at the Chesterland Community church and combined his pastoral duties with work in a war plant. Wish- ing to do what he could to aid in the war effort, after receiving the approval of his church board, he accepted employment as a grinder with the Thompson Prod- ucts Company of Cleveland. This experience, Rev. Strausser regards as a great opportunity. "It would do any preacher a lot of good to work with the laboring man at the machine and in the shop," he says. "To hear the conversa- tion, learn the problems and thoughts of his fellow man. I re- gard it as an additional course of training and it certainly provides a broader understanding of the viewpoints of others in labor, reli- gion, government and unionism," he said.

Mt. Zion Improvements

When the Mt. Zion church plans for remodeling were pro- posed the building was a one- room structure. The addition of two Sunday school rooms, to- gether with a balcony with an ap- proximate seating capacity of about 50, provide additional room and a basement houses a kitchen with the two electric ranges, drinking fountain and other equipment. A public address system has been installed, the gift of Rev. and Mrs. Strausser as a memorial to their parents.

Recently the church voted to rearrange the pulpit and sanctuary and this spring the church will be redecorated and the grounds landscaped. The entire project will cost between $9,000 and $10,- 000 it is estimated, and this sum is expected to be raised by the time the work is done. It is the hope of the pastor and congrega- tion that the dedication can be held around July 1. Practically all of the labor is being donated by men, not only from the con- gregation but from the community and there are days when as many as 15 or 16 men are at work. There is never a day when two or more men are not on the job.

Following the sale for the Mt. Zion church, the men decided to sponsor a God's Acre program in which it agreed to contribute the proceeds of one acre of corn or soybeans, and this netted an ap- preciable sum for the treasury.

Harry Garrigues, chairman of the board of trustees, served as manager for the sale last Satur- day and was assisted by the board and men and women of the church and community.

ACT ON NAME CHANGE AT NEW BLOOMINGTON

Officials Also Consider Fire Pro- tection.

Further action regarding the changing the name of the village from New Bloomington to Agosta, a proposal to purchase fire equip- ment for rural protection, and street improvements were matters discussed at a meeting of the vil- lage council at New Bloomington, Monday night.

Immediate action to change the name back to Agosta and also to change the name of the corpo- ration from New Bloomington to Agosta, was urged by the coun- cil. No definite action was taken on a proposal to call a meeting of the farmers in the vicinity to discuss the purchase of fire fight- ing equipment extending the pro- tection to the rural area. The proposition will be brought to the attention of the farmers and a meeting called if enough men are interested.

It was announced that Buell street will be resurfaced this sum- mer and it was voted to install two new electric street lights, one to be an all-night light. The work of providing a recreation center, a project started by the Boy Scouts, will get under way as soon as the weather permits, and it was reported that swings and a slide has been received for the playground.

RAILS, INDUSTRIALS CONTINUE RECOVERY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 6—Selected rails and industrials continued their recovery jaunt in today's stock market although many lead- ers were unresponsive.

Slowdowns were frequent after a fairly active opening. Gains of fractions to a point or so predomi- nated near midday.

Buying still was mainly of a professional character and based on the idea more of a technical comeback might eventuate in the wake of three losing weeks.

Better performers included Santa Fe, Great Northern Rail- way, Pennsylvania Railroad, Northern Pacific, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Anaconda, Westinghouse and Philip Morris. Backward were U. S. Steel, Gen- eral Motors, N. Y. Central and Chesapeake and Ohio.

OHIO DRINKING FEE PROPOSED

Legislator Suggests Taxing Tippling $1 To Pay Vet Bonus.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 6—Legislators pondered today whether $1-a-year drinking licenses should be required of Ohioans to help pay veterans' bonuses.

The idea popped up at a hearing by senate and house subcommittees seeking ways to raise some $400,000,000 for bonus grants to Ohio War II service personnel.

"They have such an arrangement in Canada and in several other places," said Rep. Otto F. Sharp (R-Vinton) in advancing revenue raising proposals.

Ohioans, including veterans, buying beer, liquor or wine at retail, by the glass or bottle, would be required to hold one of the $1 permits under the proposal. Nothing was said about out-of-state visitors.

Other Tax Proposals

Other sharp money-raising proposals included an extra one-cent sales tax without veteran exemptions, a cent levy on cigarets and soft drinks, and a tax on alcoholic beverages.

No action was taken on the suggestions but the military affairs sub-committees in joint session yesterday agreed on the following provisions:

Bonuses to be paid for service between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945, inclusive.

All service personnel through the rank of captain, or the equivalent, to be eligible, except merchant marine members.

July 1, 1950, to be the final date for filing bonus applications.

Tax Commissioner C. Emory Glander and Ed Schorr of Cincinnati, representing the Ohio American Legion, said that regardless of the tax aids adopted, a levy against real estate would be required for bonuses.

The house sub-committee, headed by Rep. William E. Fleckner (R-Ottawa), suggested minimum payments of $10 a month for domestic service, $15 for foreign duty with a $50 minimum and a $400 top. Heirs of service dead would receive $400.

Sen. Albert L. Daniels (R-Highland), chairman of the senate sub-committee, said the monthly payments should be cut to $5 and $7.50 for domestic and foreign service respectively, to give any bonus resolution a better chance of winning approval of voters who have the final say at an election.

A decision was postponed until another hearing next Wednesday.

Annual Club Jamboree On Richwood Program

The Richwood Lions club annual jamboree will be held Friday night at the Richwood High school with a variety of games and prizes. Proceeds will go toward projects of the club for the good of the community. Last year, the club financed eye corrections for two children and purchased glasses, backed the special operating levy of the town and contributed to the religious education program in the school, the infantile paralysis fund, the Red Cross and the recreation center.

DECISION

to preserve conditions until the cause could be determined, and obedience by the defendants would have secured this result.

"They had full opportunity to comply with the order of the district court, but they deliberately refused obedience and determined for themselves the validity of the order. * * *

"Their (the union's 'and Lewis') conduct showed a total lack of respect for the judicial process. Punishment in this case is for that which the defendants had done prior to imposition of the judgment in the district court, coupled with a coercive imposition upon the defendant union to compel obedience with the court's outstanding order."

The majority said that other contentions advanced by Lewis and the union had been examined but the court majority had found them to be "without merit."

Jackson Has Exception

Justice Jackson in a brief note at the end of the majority opinion said he joined with the majority except as to the Norris-LaGuardia act. This act restricts the use of injunctions against strikes.

Jackson said he thought the act "relieved the courts of jurisdiction to issue injunctions in this class of case."

Justices Black and Douglas in their separate opinion said they agreed with the majority that neither the Norris-LaGuardia act nor the war labor disputes act prevented the government from obtaining the injunction in the Lewis case.

They said they had no doubt that when the government took over the mines the miners became government employes. The mines were seized to end a strike last spring. Black and Douglas said:

"Since the Norris-LaGuardia act is inapplicable (to this case) we agree that the district court had power in these proceedings to enter orders necessary to protect the government against an invasion of the rights it asserted, pending adjudication of the controversy. * * * "

Fine Called Excessive

Black and Douglas said they joined Justice Rutledge in a belief, that the "flat $700,000 criminal fine against the union is excessive by constitutional and statutory standards."

"So far as we are aware," they added, "there has been, at most, only a partial compliance with the temporary injunction issued by district court Judge T. Alan Goldsborough."

Therefore, Black and Douglas said, there judgment would provide that Lewis and the union pay the fines only in the event "that full and unconditional obedience to the temporary injunction, including withdrawal of the notice which purported to terminate the contract, is not on or before a certain day" (which would be set by the district court).

Murphy Dissents

Justice Murphy in his dissent said that "when all is said and done, this case involves and grows out of a labor dispute. Government seizure of the mines can not hide or change that face. * * * The dispute, however, survived the seizure (of the mines) and is still very much alive. And it still retains its private character, the operators on the one side and the coal miners on the other. * * *

"The important point, and it can not be overemphasized, is that congress has decreed that strikes and labor disturbances growing out of private labor disputes are to be dealt with by some means other than federal court restraining orders and injunctions. Further confirmation, if any be needed, is to be found in the terms and in the history of the war labor disputes act. To this clearly enunciated policy of making government by injunction illegal, congress has made no exception where, the public interest is at stake or where the government has seized the private properties involved."

Murphy said that since he felt congress had "flatly forbidden" the issuances of all restraining orders under the Norris-LaGuardia act, "it follows that when such an order is issued despite this clear prohibition, no man can be held in contempt thereof, however unwise his action may be as a matter of policy."

Notes Threat to U. S.

Murphy noted that protests had been made that the actions of the union and Lewis threatened orderly government and the economic and social stability of the nation.

"Whatever may be the validity of those statements," he said, "we lack any power to ignore the plain mandates of congress and to impose vindictive fines upon the defendants. They are entitled to be judged by this court according to the sober principles of law.

"A judicial disregard of what congress has decreed may seem justified for the moment in view of the crisis which gave birth to this case. But such a disregard may ultimately have more disasterous and lasting effects upon the economy of the nation than any action of an aggressive labor leader in disobeying a void court order."

GUARD SUPPLIES DUE HERE BY MARCH 15

Clothing and Individual Equipment Included.

Lt. Col. S. L. Myers, superintendent of the National Guard supply depot located in the Scioto Ordnance Plant area said today he had received notice from the quartermaster general in Washington that 5,000 units of personal equipment would arrive at the depot on or before March 15.

The shipment, the colonel said, would be first sizeable one made since the 15-acre tract of land was taken over by the National Guard several months ago.

Included in the shipment will be 5,000 each of four kinds of caps, 5,000 each of two kinds of jackets, 10,000 each of two kinds of shirts, 10,000 each of two kinds of trousers, 10,000 blankets and 5,000 pieces of individual equipment including shelter halves, canteens and similar equipment.

The depot now has two trucks and two truck loads of technical equipment for an ordnance company. Twenty-seven more vehicles are on order, the colonel reported, most of which will be small-arms repair trucks and mobile machine shops for an ordnance company.

Rehabilitation work on the six buildings in the area is continuing, Col. Myers stated. The building include three large warehouses and three smaller units. Nine men now are at work in the National Guard site.

HUNGARY

general campaign against their political opponents."

The state department called on Soviet and British representatives on the control commission to join with American authorities and Hungarian government heads in an investigation of the Kovacs case.

(Last summer Russia rejected an American complaint that Soviet occupation policies are ruining Hungary's economy. In the note the U. S. state department raised the point of a possible reconsideration of Soviet claims for $300,000,000 reparations from war-shattered Hungary.

(Then note also suggested that a Russian-American-British joint commission work out a plan to help Hungary out of her economic chaos. At that time Hungary was suffering from one of the most fantastic inflations the world has known.

(Moscow rejected the American points regarding the economic position as "completely groundless." It turned down the idea of a joint mission as "inacceptable.")

Diplomatic authorities said the note was sent to Moscow by Secretary of State Marshall shortly before his departure yesterday for the Big Four foreign ministers conference opening there Monday. Copies went to Great Britain and the three-power Allied control council at Budapest.

The state department declined comment pending word that the note had been delivered.

Reflects U. S. Concern

The protest reflected American concern over bolstering Hungary, like Greece, against Soviet domination.

For weeks the Hungarian Communist and other parties have sought to oust the moderate small holders' party majority in parliament.

The most recent incident was the arrest of Bela Kovacs, anti-Communist member of parliament, by Russian soldiers.

Clearview Teachers To Decide Today On Return To Class

By The Associated Press

LORAIN, O., March 6—Bolstered by a vote of confidence from parents, teachers at neighboring Clearview schools decide today whether to return to their desks.

The schools have been closed since Monday by an en masse faculty resignation touched off by a dispute over discipline of high school students. Teachers in the elementary schools raised the number of resignations to 32 by walking out in sympathy.

One school board member said he thought the teachers tomorrow would decide to return to their class rooms, and based his optimism on a previously expressed willingness by the teachers to abide by the parents' decision.

That decision last night was overwhelmingly in favor of the teachers. A petition bearing 400 parents' signatures read: "The Clearview and Vincent P.-T.A. go on record supporting the board of education and the teachers 100 per cent in the operation of the schools."

The meeting contrasted sharply in tone with one held last Sunday in the midst of a student walkout protesting a face-slapping administered one of the pupils by Allen Mizer, high school principal.

Co-ed's Alleged Kidnaper Returned from Hospital

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, March 6 — Robert Haine Hemming, 42-year-old ex-convict charged with kidnaping an Ohio State university co-ed, was returned here today after a 30-day period of observation in the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane.

Dr. H. L. Bushong, hospital superintendent, declined to disclose his findings until tomorrow.

Hemming has pleaded innocent to an indictment alleging he kidnaped Mary Kimberly, 20-year-old daughter of Prof. Emerson E. Kimberly of Ohio State. Hemming and Miss Kimberly disappeared New Year's day and were gone for two days on a trip into northern Ohio. When she returned she reported he placed her on a homeward-bound train at Cleveland.

Marion Motorist Praises St. Louis Parking Courtesy

Police in different cities have a variety of ways in handling the problem of motorists who leave their cars too long in front of parking meters.

One of the unusual was discovered in St. Louis, Mo., recently by Mrs. Georgia Halman of 223 East Columbia street.

Visiting the Missouri city she suddenly remembered the time limit had expired on the meter where her car was parked.

Returning hurriedly she found a tag on the car—but not the kind she expected. Instead of ordering her to pay a fine the tag said: "You have evidently overparked, so we have taken the liberty of placing a coin in the meter for you."

Noticing a police officer a short distance away Mrs. Halman overtook him and found him to be a proverbial Irish policeman by the name of Milligan. When Mrs. Halman thanked him for his courtesy the policeman replied, "That's all right lady. We always do that for visitors the first time."

A nice city—St. Louis—Mrs. Halman says.

Two Speakers Heard By Reserve Officers

The Reserve Officers association held a dinner meeting Tuesday night at Hotel Harding with Col. D. Lee Hooper, commanding officer of the Marion Engineer Depot, as guest speaker. He talked on "Army Organization."

Capt. Staggs of the Officer Reserve Corps Unit at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, was also a guest. In a shot talk, he provided information on training courses, correspondence courses, and schools to be held for reserve officers. Further information concerning the schools can be obtained by anyone interested from Col. L. H. Larsen.

Capt. Virgil Dye was in charge of arrangements for the dinner. The next meeting will be April 1 at Hotel Harding.

Applications Received For Eagles' Initiation

Eight applications for membership were received and plans were made for initiation to be held March 28 in honor of the memorial foundation at a meeting of Buckeye Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Wednesday night.

Guest speaker at the initiation will be John A. Abel of Kansas City, formerly of Marion.

Guests were Irvin Jones and B. S. Daum, both of Kenton. The district supervisor, Don Reams of Marion, talked on the membership drive and the progress of the aerie.

MT. GILEAD LIBRARY WINS STATE AWARD

Voted Honorable Mention at State Meeting.

The Mt. Gilead library was one of three given honorable mention for service by small libraries at the three-day convention session of the Ohio Library association being held in Columbus with final sessions today, according to an Associated Press dispatch. The others are the Centerburg and Arcanum libraries.

Attending the convention for the three days from Marion was Miss Helen Kramer, librarian here. Others attending the Wednesday session only were Miss Florence Sneckenberger, Mrs. Ethel Miller and Mrs. Carrie Barnthouse, associate librarians here.

Quincy Mumford, assistant director of the Cleveland Public Library, was in line to become the 1947 president of the association in the closing sessions today. Mumford was nominated to succeed R. Russell Numm of the Akron Public Library.

Ohio authors last night were lauded by John T. Frederick, University of Notre Dame English professor, who addressed the three-day convention's annual banquet. Frederick singled out Harlan Hatcher, dean of the arts college at Ohio State university, Walter Havighurst, a professor at Miami (Ohio) university, and Louis Bromfield, who lives near Mansfield, as outstanding in the midwest's field of regional literary personalities.

An award of $80 for the purchase of books was made to Bloom township library at Bloomville.

In another meeting, Mrs. O. F. Gayton of Youngstown was elected president of the Ohio Library Trustee association, an affiliation of the state library group. Also elected to trusteeship were Howard Walker of Akron, vice president, and Mrs. J. F. Mollenkopf of Van Wert, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Elsie Bennet Wilson of Medina, Mrs. A. F. Shepherd of Dayton, and Henry Barnhart of Lima were named to the group's executive board.

LEVY

fect an Ohio code statute maintaining the directors may levy up to three-tenths of a mill.

The assessment will raise approximately $280,000 in the 17 counties.

Second Largest In Area

Marion county will pay $18,900, the second largest amount in the district, topped only by Franklin county, where the amount is $164,396. Other counties in the district are Delaware, Union, Madison, Pickaway, Ross, Fayette, Crawford, Sandusky, Scioto, Seneca, Wyandot, Morrow, Pike, Vinton and Highland.

The conservancy court is made up of the common pleas judges in the 17 counties of the district. Marion County Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith voted against the assessment maintaining it would require too much money for the district's official plan.

The official plan when prepared and adopted must be submitted to the conservancy court for approval, and the court must then appoint three appraisers to appraise the property in the district which would be benefited by the improvements.

Directors of the district are E. F. Bearce of Chillicothe, A. J. Allman of Tiffin, and Joseph Van Meter of Waverly.

Miss Dorothy Poling's Parents Die in Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Poling of near Greenville, O., parents of Miss Dorothy Poling, a former home economics instructor in the Caledonia schools, were killed when their automobile was hit by a freight train near Woodington, O., last Saturday, according to word received by friends of Miss Poling in Caledonia. Both were 55 years old.

Surviving with Miss Poling is a son, Dr. Edward Poling of Oak Park, Ill. Miss Poling taught in the Caledonia schools for three years, leaving there about five years ago. She is an instructor of English in the Mansfield schools.

3 PACKING PLANTS TIED UP BY STRIKE

By The Associated Press

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 6—Strike of 300 stock pen workers at the St. Paul Union Stockyards Co. at nearby South St. Paul today tied up operations in three large meat packing plants when more than 5,000 workers refused to cross picket lines established shortly after the walkout started at 5 a. m.

Milton Siegel, field representative of District Two, United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) said the only persons working in the three plants — Swift, Armour and Rifkin—were office employes, supervisors and maintenance men operating refrigeration systems to prevent spoilage of meat on hand.

An embargo on shipments of livestock was established by the stockyards company, with A. L. Olson, president, advising shippers it would be in effect "until such time as normal operations may be resumed."

SOVIET-POLISH PACT HAILED BY RUSSIANS

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 6 — A new Polish-Soviet agreement—reported to provide for numerous apparent economic benefits to Poland and to express a unity of opinion on the German question—dominated the press of the Soviet Union today.

Newspapers reported that among the things the young Polish republic would receive were:

(1) A Russian loan of $28,855,000 in gold.

(2) Reduction by half of the coal supplies due Russia from Poland.

(3) Trains which the Soviets seized as war booty from Germany.

(4) An arrangement on "mutual financial obligations."

(5) Establishment of "scientific and technical collaboration" in the field of industrial production.

(6) Armaments and military equipment as a credit from the Soviet Union.

(7) A part of the German merchant fleet "due Poland," to be handed over by May 15, 1947.

"There also was an exchange of opinions on the German question which revealed the principle of harmony in the standpoints of both governments," said a communique.

950 AT LAST SERVICE HERE

Dr. Rice Preaches Closing Sermon in Star Auditorium Revival.

Approximately 950 persons attended the closing service of the Dr. John R. Rice union evangelistic campaign last night in The Star auditorium, with persons present from Waldo, Bucyrus, LaRue, Wharton, Prospect, Claridon and Richwood. Delegations were there from Emmanuel Baptist and Oakland Evangelical United Brethren churches. Rev. R. W. Faulkner presided and Rev. Marvin Lewis offered prayer. Committees which directed various phases of the meeting were listed by Rev. Faulkner and together with others who took part in the services in any way, were thanked publicly by him. A book was presented each one in the choir who had sung in at least 10 services.

Dr. Harry Clarke sang "Oh Where Is My Boy Tonight?" Mrs. J. W. Baker and Mrs. Wesley Chatfield were the pianists. It was announced that Dr. Rice and Dr. Clarke will begin an evangelistic campaign Sunday in San Pedro, Calif. Present with Dr. Clarke were his wife and their two children.

As a result of the meeting here which opened Feb. 18, a total of 170 persons answered the altar call at various services, professing acceptance of Christ in their lives it was stated. For his sermon last night, Dr. Rice used "Missing God's Last Train for Heaven, based on the twentieth verse of the eighth chapter of Jeremiah.

In part, he said, "Some people say a man can get saved whenever he wants to. My friends, you are not the one to say when you will get saved. 'Seek ye the Lord while He may be found, call on Him while He is near.' There will come a time when your heart will be hardened, there will come a time when you will not listen to God.

"Harvest time passes in soul winning. One day the last train will leave, and you will not get to go with it. There is a harvest time of youth. Some people say 'Don't talk to little children. They are too young.' Jesus said 'Suffer the little children to come unto Me.' The time to be saved is in your youth. Most of the people ever saved are saved before they are 15.

"There is also a harvest of God's special dealing that passes away. A lot of people get saved about the time the torpedo hits the ship, or when they are in the hospital, or in the jungles. This is God's special dealing. If you have lost a loved one and are not saved, while you are still grieving get right with God."

Prewar per capita consumption of petroleum products in the United States was 367 gallons a year, that of England 87 gallons and of Germany 28 gallons.

VETERANS' NEWS AND INFORMATION

Prepared by The Public Relations Service, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 6, 52 S. Starling street, Columbus, 8, Ohio. Phone Main 6361; Ext. 281.

VA Lists Liberalized GI Insurance Terms

The Veterans Administration today called attention to the recent amendment to National Service Life Insurance legislation which affords more liberalized insurance benefits for 1,500,000 World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky.

Insurance officials at the VA's tri-state Branch Office in Columbus emphasized that veterans now have until Aug. 1, 1947, to reinstate their GI insurance by payment of two monthly premiums. No physical examination is necessary, although veterans must certify they are in as good health as they were at the time their insurance lapsed. The former deadline for reinstatement without physical examination was last Feb. 1.

Officials pointed out that the 35,000 applications for reinstatement made by veterans in the three states between Feb. 1 and Feb. 21 are automatically valid and will not require a physical examination, except in individual cases where an examination was specifically requested.

Under the new law, a veteran may obtain any permanent NSLI plan from the VA regardless of whether he previously held term insurance. Under the former law, VA was required to issue NSLI originally on a term plan only, and it had to be carried on that basis for one year before it could be converted to a permanent plan.

Veterans Must Report Address Changes

Veterans who are in receipt of monetary benefits from the Veterans Administration should report any changes in address immediately to VA to prevent unnecessary delays in subsistence or compensation payments.

One-Third of Vets Apply For Education, Training

One out of every three World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky has made application for education or job-training under benefits administered by the Veterans Administration.

The VA's tri-state Branch Office in Columbus today reported that as of Feb. 1 a total of 369,-230 of the 1,612,000 World War II veterans in the three states had applied for education or training under the GI Bill (Public Law 346) or the Vocational Rehabilitation Act for Disabled Veterans (Public Law 16). The number included 281,053 of Ohio's 773,760 veterans.

Lawyers Ineligible For On-Job Training

Lawyer-veterans are not eligible for on-the-job training.

VA officials explain that a veteran who has passed his bar examination and has been admitted to the bar is legally qualified to practice law and has attained his job objective. VA is not authorized to award on-the-job training benefits for a job objective, in this case the practice of law, which already has been attained. However, this ruling does not prohibit lawyer-veterans from taking refresher courses under the GI Bill at educational institutions, VA officials said.

Vets Must Register Souvenir Firearms

Veterans who brought souvenir firearms into the country must register them with the commissioner of internal revenue, according to the U. S. treasury department.

The Veterans Administration is cooperating with the treasury department in bringing this message to the more than 14,000,000 veterans of World War II.

While not objecting to veterans owning trophies, the government is attempting to prevent such weapons from falling into the hands of criminals. The treasury department's alcohol tax unit will render these weapons harmless by a welding process which in no way will impair their appearance or value as trophies.

Questions and Answers

Q. Before his death, my husband received a pension from the Veterans Administration. Am I entitled to this pension now that he has passed away?

A. You may apply for a widow's pension. Your eligibility will be determined upon application.

Q. My son has been totally disabled for the past five months. I would like to know if he must pay his GI Insurance premiums or is a waiver on these premiums granted automatically?

A. No automatic waiver of premiums can be granted. A veteran must be totally disabled for six months before he is entitled to apply for a waiver of premiums. He may also file claim for refund of those premiums paid from the date on which the waiver was made effective. A beneficiary of an insured veteran likewise is entitled to file a claim for a refund if the insured had been totally disabled for six months or more before his death.

Q. If a veteran and his wife are separated and she receives a portion of his compensation, would she be entitled to widow's pension at his death?

A. A widow may be eligible to full widow's pension even though there was a separation during the veteran's lifetime. If she feels she is entitled to pension or compensation, she should make application to VA.

Q. I recently lost my job and can't meet the payments on my GI guaranteed home loan. Am I entitled to get readjustment compensation provided by the GI Bill?

A. Yes, you are entitled to readjustment allowance if you meet all other requirements. Your home loan has no bearing on your right to unemployment compensation. You should apply to your state unemployment service to receive readjustment allowance.

Polar Weather Blind Spot To Be Manned By Army Observers

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—The uninhabited rim of the North American continent, a vast blind spot for weathermen and military strategists, soon will be manned by watchers of the United States and Canada.

The project, officially disclosed in Ottawa and Washington, involves the joint establishment of nine new weather stations in Canadian territory.

It is part of the recently announced plan to continue the wartime collaboration of the two nations by exchanging information, personnel and facilities for "peacetime joint security purposes."

At least two of the new stations will be in the far north, one on Ellsmere island, 600 miles from the North Pole, another to the westward on Melville island.

These, with the other outposts in the chain to the southward, will fill in a blank area between weather stations maintained by the United States in Alaska and one at Thule, in Greenland.

The Ellsmere and Melville island stations are expected to be completed and manned this summer.

Grotto Grand Monarch To Visit Here April 12

At a meeting of Kadgar Grotto Monday night in the Masonic temple, plans were made for a visit of Addison S. Vance of St. Petersburg, Fla., grand monarch, April 12. He will be accompanied here by Mrs. Vance, and at that time the Grotto will stage a grand monarch's ball at the temple. Dinner at Hotel Harding for prophets and their wives will precede the dance. There will be a party for prophets, their wives and Masons at Columbian hall Saturday at 8 p. m., it was announced, with entertainment and refreshments, and a potluck dinner and entertainment will be held by the Grotto at the temple March 26.

Wesleyan Service Guild Holds Meeting at Church

Devotions in charge of Miss Ruth Carr opened the meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Prospect Street Methodist church Tuesday evening at the church. Hostesses were Mrs. Martha Call and Mrs. Mary Fairchild. Assisting in the devotional service were Miss Betty Bierce, Miss Ruth Schott and Miss Frances Haas. A new member, Mrs. Sally Grice, was welcomed into the guild. Miss Josephine Ruth and Mrs. Magdaline Flach were appointed as a committee to be in charge of packing a box of miscellaneous items to be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weiss and family who are in China as missionaries. Plans were discussed for the mother-daughter party to be held in May. The program topic was discussed by Miss Marian Gooding.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

LAST POLAR GROUP LEAVES ANTARCTICA

By The Associated Press

ABOARD USS MT. OLYMPUS, March 6—Capt. Charles Bond's western group ended its Polar exploratory operations Tuesday night, completing all activities of the greatest expedition ever made to the Antarctic.

Ships in the eastern and central groups of the navy expedition led by Admiral Richard E. Byrd already have started the homeward trip.

The western task group's three Marinet seaplanes made 25 photographic mapping flights while the mother ship, the Currituck, steamed 3,600 miles around the coast of Antarctica. The planes photographed 385,000 square miles in an area much of which was never charted before.

Ships of the western and eastern task groups came within 400 to 500 miles of meeting and, counting their plane flights, almost circumnavigated the South Polar continent.

Expedition officials said Bond's group had a gap of only about 200 to 250 miles in the area of the Leopold and Astrid coast in its photographic coverage over its 3,600-mile route. Its activities were halted before a new visit could be made on Bunger's oasis—an unexplained area of unfrozen lakes inland on the continent.

Club Votes Gift To Red Cross Fund

A contribution of $5 was made to the Marion County chapter of the Red Cross at a meeting of the Women's Division of the Marion County Democratic club Monday night in Democratic headquarters. Mrs. Michael Moran, vice president, presided. Plans were discussed for organization of the various wards in the city and also for a potluck dinner in April.

Following the women's meeting members of the Democratic club met to discuss plans for a Jefferson day dinner in April. For the program Robert Solinger presented pictures shown through the courtesy of the Marion County Unit of the American Cancer society.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

Today's Text: "But let him that glorieth in this, that he understandeth and knoweth Me." Jeremiah 9:24.

THE prophet, Jeremiah, had just admonished, by the word of the Lord, that the wise man glory not in his wisdom, neither that the mighty man glory in his might, nor the rich man glory in his riches. And yet, is it not true today that these three so occupy our minds and pursuits that we have become blinded to the principle of feeling exultant over the fact of knowing and understanding God? We grant that the above mentioned pursuits have their respective places in the plan of life, and none are self-condemnatory unless allowed to govern us so completely as to crowd God out of our lives.

Life's real perfection is discovered in understanding and knowing God. Only through Christ can we reach such satisfaction. Regardless of any mortal claim, the words of Christ, "I am the Door," deny any other alternative in reaching God.

Ingersoll, the infidel, in the eyes of many, possessed great wisdom, yet God says, "The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God."

Most historically great men, depending upon mere earthly might, have come to violent and untimely deaths. Riches are no real support in the light of eternal truth and judgment. Therefore, should we not feel highly and wondrously blessed if we can glory in the heart-thrilling fact of understanding and knowing God, through Christ, His Son, in the hope of the resurrection?

REV. MELVIN TRUEX,
Pastor, First Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Three Literary Clubs Hold Galion Sessions

GALION, March 6—Three literary clubs held regular meetings Tuesday night.

At the Curtis Martin home, Mrs. Byron Lemley and Mrs. R. C. Bratton were hostesses. The program included two papers, one read by Mrs. Lester Ritz, and another prepared by Mrs. Glen Gwinner and read by Miss Eleanor Poister.

The meeting of the Round Table club was held at the American Legion Home with Mrs. Howard Evans as hostess. The program feature was a paper prepared by Miss Miriam Martin and read by Mrs. James Gill.

Mrs. J. L. Fulton opened her home to members of the Research club. The program was presented by Mrs. Henry Long and Mrs. Jay Nichols.

The topic leader was Mrs. S. S. Baker when the Woman's Missionary society of First Lutheran church held its March meeting, Tuesday night with Mrs. E. D. Horn. Devotions were led by Mrs. Ben Cox.

* * *

A dinner-party this week at Hotel Talbott, given by girls of the Stratbury Manufacturing Co. was in honor of Mrs. William Hoeker, the former Beverly Hemmerly. Social hours were spent at the home of Miss Berthe Chacopulos, where members of the group compiled a bride's book, and presented the honoree with a gift of crystal. In a contest the prize was won by Marion Devore.

Cigar Capitol Residents Prefer U. S. Cigarets

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

HAVANA, March 6 — Cuban cocktail:

In the homeland of the cigar both men and women prefer American cigarets. But they don't like paying 35 cents a package for them. Even in Havana a top grade cigar costs better than a quarter. If your cigar goes out the Cubans say, "it has a bombero (foreman) in it. He put out the fire".

Cubans brag nobody ever froze to death on their island or died of heat exhaustion. It has an average annual mean temperature of 71 degrees. The thermometer never has risen above 95 (they say) or fallen below 50.

Hal Boyle

Christopher Columbus discovered Cuba Oct. 27th, 1492 — a press agent whose name unfortunately has been lost to history quotes the diplomatic admiral as saying it was "the most beautiful land which human eyes have ever seen". Chris sent two henchmen ashore with a fat string of beads to cover their traveling expenses—and what did they find the natives doing? Smoking Havana stogies. Europe's first contact with the tobacco habit.

Give Elaborate Title

The Spanish by royal decree gave Cuba the title of "Key to the New World and bulwark of the West Indies". Ponce De Leon used it as a base for his trip to Florida in search of the fountain of youth, later built at Miami Beach by Carl Fisher, who plucked more honest gold from the tourists than Ponce ever flogged out of the Indians. No Cuban is convinced he will die poor because he always has a chance of winning $100,000 each week on the national lottery. Children get five cents for each ticket they peddle. Sellers hang "lucky numbers" in strings from bushes in front of their homes or from store windows. A special prize of $1,000,000 is offered this month. Tickets cost $100, but each ticket can be broken up in shares and sold separately.

English is spoken by most educated Cubans and murdered by the others. The American phrase "all right" has gone over into their tongue, a slanguage of pure Spanish filtered through many dialects.

Beat Army To Punch

San Cristobal de la Habana—that's Havana's full name—built its most famous fortress, Morro (promontory) Castle, after getting a bad fright from a celebrated English turtle thief. He was Sir Francis Drake (the dragon) who besieged Havana briefly in 1585 on the way home after sacking Carthagena. But he vamoosed on back to Queen Elizabeth with his loot after snitching some turtle eggs and 250 turtles from Havana for his crew. He dried and powdered them, thereby beating the American army to the punch with dehydrated eggs by 450 years.

The Morro Castle garrison used to entertain itself in the old days by sliding executed prisoners down a chute to the waiting sharks. The fortress has filled more camera lenses than any New World landmark except the Statue of Liberty. But it's just a big bluff on a big bluff. They're afraid to fire its coastal guns for fear the walls would collapse. The most powerful guns are down by the water in the Battery of the Twelve Apostles.

Drink Much "Cafe Solo"

Cubans drink from five to ten cups of "cafe solo" a day. The tiny cups are smaller than a demitasse and they sweeten it with about a tablespoon of sugar. The price is only a nickel but peddlers sell to factory workers at two cents a cup.

Housewives in central Havana have their own delivery service. They lower baskets by ropes from upper balconies to newsboys or street hawkers selling vegetables. There's a reason deeper than poverty to explain why small boys in poor sections romp naked except for a small shirt. Male children are wanted more than girls and proud parents let junior run around that way to prove to the world there's a new man in the family.

Crawford Co. Schools Receive State Funds

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 6—Crawford county school districts received more than $2,000 more from the state treasury for the first quarter of 1947 than was received for the same period in 1946, Superintendent Milton Harman said today in announcing receipt of the funds.

A total of $29,291.04 was received for the first three months of 1947 as compared with $27,016.96 received for the same period last year.

Holmes Liberty received the largest sum, $4,664.73. Other amounts were as follows: Sulphur Springs, $3,716.30; Lykens, $3,280.11; Wholestone, $2,807.40; Tiro, $2,758.73; New Washington, $2,624.06; Leesville, $2,607.17; Mt. Zion, $2,587.19; North Robinson, $2,578.49; Chatfield, $1,636.97; Polk township, $9.89.

Slaying at Mansfield Ruled Self Defense

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., March 6—A jury decided yesterday that Clarence Black, 55, stabbed Richard Jones, Demo club bartender, to death in self defense last Christmas morning, thereby acquitting him of first degree manslaughter.

Police Chief Meade K. Bates disclosed he had asked state liquor authorities to revoke the liquor permit of the Demo club, a Negro organization.

John Paul Jones was the first naval commander to fly the Stars and Stripes as the American flag.

NO INSPECTIONS IN RUSSIA, UN TOLD

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 6 — Pessimistic security council delegates, groping for a solution to global control of atomic energy, pondered today a Russian assertion that Soviet frontiers never would be thrown open to unlimited international inspection nor Soviet factories allowed to operate under United Nations control.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, made these points clear in a major policy speech, devoted principally to an outspoken attack on the American control plan.

Gromyko said the United States proposals, already accepted by all members of the 12-nation atomic energy commission except Russia and Poland, were contrary to the basic economic and national interests of other nations and "directed against the independence of other states."

RAIL DEMURRAGE RATES INCREASED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—The interstate commerce commission yesterday boosted charges railroads may make against shippers in port cities who hold box cars idle on sidetracks for longer than a normal loading or unloading period.

It said the order, effective March 15, is intended to speed loading and unloading and hence ease the box car shortage.

These charges, known as demurrage rates, were raised last December to keep the cars at work. At that time, however, ICC exempted all cars in the import, export, coastwise and intercoastal traffic from the higher rates.

Yesterday's order applies the increased rate to closed (loaded) cars held at export and coastwise piers, leaving exempt only gondola, open and covered hopper cars handling coal, grain and explosives at U. S. ports and points on the Canadian border.

The higher demurrage rates, which start to run after a normal unloading period range from $2.20 a day for the first two days beyond that period to $10.50 a day for the fifth day and each day thereafter.

LEGAL NOTICE
In the matter of the Joint County Ditch Improvement No. 234, petitioned for by Story W. Balla, et al.
To each person signing or named in the petition and to each other person affected by said improvement.
You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 25th day of February, 1947 the above named petitioned filed a petition with the Auditor of Marion County Ohio for the deepening, widening and straightening of Swamp Run Ditch also known as Pletcher Joint County Ditch. The construction of the improvement is necessary and will be conducive to the public welfare.
The following is the course and termini of said improvement, to wit:
Commencing in the existing Swamp Run Ditch, also known as Pletcher Joint County Ditch at the south line of an east and west road running through the middle of Section 12 in Whetstone Township, Crawford County, Ohio; thence southerly following the line of the existing ditch across Sections 12 and Section 13 in said Whetstone Township and Section 18 fractional, Sections 17 and 20 Sections 29, 28, 33 and 34 in Tully Township, Marion County, Ohio, to the southerly terminus of said ditch as now located, with a sufficient outlet.
It is claimed that the improvement will affect property owned by you.
You are therefore notified that the Joint Board of Commissioners of Marion, Crawford and Morrow counties have fixed the 21st day of March, 1947 at ten o'clock A. M. as the upper terminus of the improvement, as the time and the Court House and have fixed the 24th day of March, 1947 at ten o'clock A. M. at the office of the County Commissioners in Marion, Ohio, as the time and place for the first hearing in the matter of said proposed improvement.

MOTHER AND TWO SONS ON TRIAL HERE FRIDAY

Indicted by Grand Jury on Charges of Assault and Battery.

A mother and her two sons are scheduled to appear in Marion county common pleas court Friday to stand trial before a jury on charges of assault and battery.

They are Mrs. Lena Jackson, 47, and Richard J. Casperson, 21, both of 415 Mary street, and James Casperson, 25, of 144 East Farming street.

Their attorney is Carter M. Patton and assisting County Prosecutor James E. Reed will be Frank Wiedemann.

The three were indicted by the January term of the Marion county grand jury on charges of assault and battery, after the jury reduced the charges from assault with intent to kill. They were arrested several months ago following an altercation at the Hub Bar and Grill on South Main street. All are free on bond.

Lenten Service Sunday At Church in Prospect

Basis of the Lenten service of St. Paul Lutheran church at Prospect Sunday night will be "The Third Word from the Savior's Cross," and the sermon by the pastor, Rev. Paul E. Dobberstein, will be "The Saviour Is Obedient." Wednesday night, the Luther League will meet. The topic will be "My Savior and I," presented by Miss Marjorie Behrens, devotions will be in charge of Rev. Dobberstein, and Miss Anna Mary Kirk will direct a recreational hour. First Lenten Study class sponsored by the Katherine Luther Guild and the Missionary Aid society will be Wednesday at 3 p. m. The study book, "Our Land Is India," by Loeffler, will be discussed by various leaders. All women of the church are welcome to attend these meetings, it was announced. Mrs. Harry A. Lauer will be hostess for a meeting of the Missionary Aid society Thursday afternoon. The topic, "Service to the Household of Faith," will be presented by Mrs. Dobberstein.

FREED IN MURDER CASE
By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, March 6 — Mrs. Marie Ulm, 30, of Cincinnati was free on murder charges today in the fatal shooting last July 23 of her husband, Charles, 33, as he lay on a bed at home. A jury of nine women and three men found her innocent after she testified that she had been "in fear of her life" at the time of the fatal shooting.

Speedy Statehood For Hawaii Urged By U. S. Officials

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug and two California congressmen returned from the Pacific yesterday urging speedy statehood for Hawaii and creation of civil administrations for other Pacific islands.

Krug told newsmen both plans have the indorsement of Gen Douglas MacArthur.

Krug and others in the party, including Reps. Clair Engle (D) and Norris Paulson (R) of California and Delegate Joseph Farrington of Hawaii completed a 24,000 mile tour to Hawaii and the southwest Pacific with stopovers at Shanghai and Tokyo.

Engle said McArthur "is of the opinion that statehood for Hawaii would be a step in support of a program to bring democracy to Japan."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

After-Operation Hazard

It sometimes happens that surgical patients come through their operations well and then, a few days later, develop some complication of the lungs such as pneumonia or atelectasis which slows their recovery by weeks. Atelectasis means that the tiny air sacs in the lungs collapse. These things have always been an important after-operation hazard and they still are today though doctors now realize that much can be done to prevent them.

Drs. Robert D. Dripps and Margery Van N. Deming of the University of Pennsylvania have worked out a safeguarding program which has reduced the number of such complications among patients at the hospital of the University of Pennsylvania

In the first place, except for emergencies, operations are put off for a week or two when patients have a cold, sore throat or similar infection. Patients who have had some irritation of the nose or throat which has led to increased mucous secretion are given large doses of atropine which helps to dry up these secretions.

If persons are suffering from some chronic infection of the nose, throat or lungs and cannot cough up these secretions they are sucked out through an instrument called a bronchoscope which can be passed into the lungs. It is well, also, to eliminate infections in the teeth and the mouth before operation is performed.

Following operation, the patient's position in bed is completely changed at least once every hour to keep fluids from settling at the base of the lung. If secretions collect in the nose and mouth these are sucked out by means of a catheter as often as necessary. In some cases it may be found necessary to have the patient breathe carbon dioxide at frequent intervals. This tends to stimulate the breathing.

The amount of narcotic or sedative drugs is limited since these drugs have a tendency to depress the breathing. It has been found that these lung complications occur more often in men than in women, among smokers and in patients with chronic or acute respiratory infections. They are also more frequent in older patients and after long operations. It is especially important then that such people be given special preventive care before, during and after operation.

Movies on Program Of Pension Society

A comedy film showing Popeye and a travel picture through interesting places in the United States made up a program sponsored by the Ladies Fellowship class of Central Christian church at a meeting of the Old Age Pension Society of Marion County, Friday afternoon in the Eagles hall. Later the class members entertained with refreshments. In charge of this part of the program were Mrs. Lewis Duckworth, Mrs. Glenn Walraven and Mrs. E. H. Burnap.

A letter was read by the president, Arthur Hershner, regarding the changes to be made in regulations affecting pensions. Prayer was by Mrs Elizabeth Houser and music included the singing of "America," "When You Wore a Tulip," "Auld Lang Syne," "I Want a Girl," "Down by the Old Mill Stream," "My Wild Irish Rose," "Long, Long Trail" and "Darling Nellie Gray," by the audience. Miss Grace Hann gave a poem, "The Pensioner," the choir sang "In the Garden," and a trio composed of W. E. Sergent, Christian Ruth and Mrs. Rose Seiter sang "Farther Along," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Eva Parish. Prayer and salute to the Flag by the audience, a report on illness of members and their families and prayer by Andy Morgan completed the program.

CIRCLE MEETING HELD

A meeting of Lucy Webb Hayes circle of the W.S.C.S. of Epworth Methodist church was held Thursday night at the church. A candlelight devotion service on the theme, "Stewardship" was given under the direction of Mrs. Jessie Ellery. Colored pictures were shown by Miss Geneva Terry and Miss Etta Carter. Mrs. T. S. Catherine was in charge of the business session and reports were given by the various department chairmen. Mrs. W. D. McGee gave a talk on the February topic, "Children of Our World." Other circles in the church and members of the W.S.C.S. of other churches in the city were guests.

Marion Concert Association Opens Membership Campaign

Today marks the opening of the Marion Community Concert association's membership campaign in preparation for the 1947-48 season of concert programs. Mrs. Harold K. Mouser, second vice president of the association and campaign chairman, is in charge of the advance membership drive, and is being assisted by Mrs. Fanny Benson, assistant chairman, officers, board of directors and workers.

The workers received their material and tickets at a meeting held last night in Republican headquarters preceding the Lecture-Recital club chorus rehearsal. Those living outside the city and who were unable to attend the meeting Wednesday night will receive their material today.

It is important, the association officers point out, that persons who are out of the city, or who will be out of town during the next few days, get their membership renewals to some one of the workers before the next Monday evening meeting. It is the plan of the sponsors to contact all of the membership for renewals before Monday as after that date, memberships will be open to persons who have not been enrolled as members heretofore.

Headquarters for the campaign will be at the H. Schaffner Co. store and will be opened Tuesday. When the campaign is ended talent for the forthcoming season will be selected.

A report meeting will be held at 7 o'clock Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. and there will be a dessert lunch. Arrangements for the lunch are in charge of Mrs. Glen Penry.

Mrs. Karl W. Schell is president of the association, Mrs. Clara Campbell, vice president, Mrs. Mouser, second vice president and campaign chairman, Mrs. A. G. Birch, secretary and Mrs. William Thomas, treasurer. Serving as a board of directors are Mrs. J. C. Woods, Mrs. W. G. McPeck, Mrs. Carter M. Patton, Mrs. Harry T. Williams, Mrs. LeRoy Schneider, Mrs. Richard Jennings, Mrs. O. D. Anderson, Mrs. Fanny Benson, Mrs. Glen Penry.

Mrs. Richard Jennings is assistant secretary. Mrs. O. D. Anderson assistant treasurer and Mrs. LeRoy Schneider is publicity chairman.

The campaign headquarters will be in charge of Mrs. Birch, Mrs. Jennings, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Anderson.

4 THOUGHT TRAPPED IN EXPLOSION DEBRIS

By The Associated Press

GREENVILLE, O., March 6 — An explosion and fire destroyed the Producers Creamery and Cold Storage Co. here today, and Fire Chief Ernest R. Gauvey said he believed four men were trapped in the ruins.

The missing men were Ralph Fasnaught, 34, of Greenville, manager of the plant; Robert Rammel, 29, of Fort Recovery, George Pitsenbarger, 42, of Beamsville, and Howard Fierstein, 33, of Greenville. A fifth employe, Orville Bertram, 53, of Greenville, was taken to Wayne hospital with serious burns.

The blast, believed to have been caused by an explosion of gas or ammonia, broke windows and toppled chimneys within a block and a half radius of the two-story brick and cement-block building in this Darke county seat's south end.

An office employe estimated damage at about $250,000.

Heat and smoke prevented firemen from searching the badly damaged structure immediately for the missing men. The fire was under control.

The five men were believed to be the only employes in the plant. An office crew of four women had not yet arrived and most of the other plant employes were truck drivers and not in the building.

The plant was a branch of the Producers Creamery and Cold Storage Co. of Celina. In the building were 755 cold storage lockers.

OPA FACES DEATH SENTENCE JUNE 30

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—OPA, the government's most widely known wartime agency faced a definite June 30 death sentence today.

Critics of the once powerful office of price administration which in its hey-day fixed values on everything from apples to zebra skins said the agency must die with the end of the treasury's fiscal year.

The senate decision—although a far softer blow than the house had dealt previously—prompted OPA's few remaining congressional supporters to protest that actually rent, sugar and rice controls will have to end before then for lack of funds.

The precise answer will be decided by a senate-house conference committee expected to be appointed to iron out this and other differences over a $182,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill.

The senate wrote its verdict late yesterday after brushing aside a plea from Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, OPA's top boss as head of the postwar office of temporary controls.

Spreading Probe of Ration Violations Ups Arrest Totals.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 6—The government's spreading dragnet, which already has rounded up more than 50 persons on indictments charging sugar ration violations, picked up four more men yesterday, including two former employes of the OPA verification center here.

Arraigned and held under bond were Eddie Stephens, 31, charged with theft of government property; Moses White, charged with having possession of 25,000 books of sugar ration stamps, Charles A. Kohs, 43, said by assistant U. S. District Attorney Raymond McClory to be wanted in Fort Worth, Tex., on a federal charge of possessing 80,000 stolen sugar stamps worth 400,000 pounds, and William F. Miner, 34, arrested late yesterday on the same charge as that against Kohs.

The former OPA employes, Stephens and White, both pleaded innocent when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker and were held under $5,000 bonds pending a hearing March 10. John Williams, 32, also a former OPA employe at the center, who was charged on March 3 with illegal possession and transfer of more than 5,000 sugar stamps, likewise was held under $5,000 bond, pending a federal grand jury investigation of what McClory has termed a "gigantic black market" in sugar.

Yesterday when Stephens and White were arraigned Nathan Cohen, assistant U. S. attorney told Commissioner Walker that Williams and they were responsible for the theft of stamps good for more than 1,000,000 pounds of sugar from the OPA verification center. He said:

"They carried them out in cartons or slipped whole sheets of stamps into newspapers, stealing both used and new stamps."

Kohs, who pleaded innocent when arraigned, was held under $10,000 bond for a hearing March 14.

Miner was taken into custody by OPA agents when it was learned he had booked a plane reservation for Tuesday night for the West Coast under the name of Charles Sherman. He pleaded innocent before Commissioner Walker and bond was set at $10,000.

Said by OPA agents to be a partner of Kohs, Miner also was ordered to appear at the March 14 hearing.

Train Wreck Ruled Result of Wire Roll

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—The interstate commerce commission said today the derailment of a Pennsylvania railroad passenger train at Walton, Ind., on Jan. 27 was caused by an obstruction placed on the tracks by two boys. Four persons were killed and 48 injured in the accident.

The derailment occurred just after dark as the west-bound train was traveling at an authorized speed of about 60 miles an hour.

"The investigation," said the ICC report, "disclosed that about 30 minutes before the accident occurred two boys, 10 and 11 years of age, had moved a roll of woven wire fencing, 22 inches in diameter and 48 inches in length, a pine board 10 feet long, a piece of pine wood and several pipe of various lengths * * * from a place on the right of way * * * to the main tracks."

The report did not identify the boys.

Columbus Dick Tracys Hold "Shoes" for Quiz

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 6—Columbus police today questioned "Shoes," a juvenile theft suspect they've sought for some weeks.

"Shoes" got his name when police discovered large tennis shoe imprints near burglary scenes.

Detective Sgt. Lawrence W. Haischman and Detective Ernest L. Moss captured a small Negro boy—wearing size 11's—after a chase through backyards and between houses yesterday and took him to juvenile detention home for questioning.

FAREWELL FOR DULLES — Before boarding the plane that will carry him to Moscow and the Big Four foreign ministers conference, John Foster Dulles kisses his wife goodbye as Mrs. Arthur Vandenberg, wife of the senate president pro tempore, looks on. Dulles will serve as special advisor to Secretary of State George Marshall for the peace-writing meetings.

JUVENILE

ter since last fall when he was brought into juvenile court on a charge of auto theft. His two companions were also with him at that time, and admitted having ridden in the car, but claimed not to have been with him when it was stolen. They had been put on probation.

The boy was accompanied in court by older sisters and brothers and other relatives. His parents are dead. He was represented by Attorney William P. Moloney.

After the youth had admitted the breakins, his companion, a 16-year-old boy, was brought in. He was accompanied by his father and grandparents, apparently under considerable strain.

The boy admitted receiving radios and other merchandise from the first youth, but denied knowing it was stolen. His grandparents, with whom he lives, said they had used some of the equipment in their home, but had been told by the boy he won it at the fair.

They told of trying to keep their boy from associating with the other boy, but that it seemed to be impossible. The boy also admitted possessing obscene literature and of having taken obscene photographs of local girls with his camera.

The fourth boy brought in was younger and had no connection with the other three. He had been implicated with another group of boys, who lived in his neighborhood, and offered a frank and contrite appearance.

Accompanied by Father

He was accompanied by his father, who had been called from his job at a local factory, and was represented by Attorney Russell M. Wilhelm.

Under questioning by Judge Gast and Police Captain E. C. Mackan, he admitted having been with the other boys when they set out to steal from cars. He confessed taking from a car a $300 camera, a war souvenir owned by R. E. Wolbert.

When asked about other merchandise stolen from cars that night, he denied taking it, saying that two other boys "took the other street and we came on home."

His father spoke of the prolonged illness of the boy's mother and the difficulty of taking care of their large family. "He got in with the wrong gang," the father told the court.

Mr. Wilhelm pointed out that it was the boy's first offense and police officers said he had been truthful with them. Patrolman John S. Underhill told of going to the lad's home to pick him up and try to recover some of the stolen property. His sisters were indignant that he was suspected, the officer said, although one urged him to make a clean breast of it if the accusation was true. Mr. Underhill said he took the boy out into the police car and asked him if he had the camera.

Leads Officer To Camera

The boy admitted having it after being told it would be no harder on him if he gave it up, and it might be easier.

"Can I get it without my mother knowing," the boy asked, Patrolman Underhill related.

"I told him no," the officer said. Then, he told the court, the boy took him down to the cellar of the house, where he had hidden the expensive camera.

The boy's three companions, aged 13, 14 and 16 will be brought into court tomorrow morning.

Paul D. Michel and William Davis were attorneys for one of the boys in court today.

DIRECTED VERDICT GIVEN IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFF

Urbana Loan Company Suit Here Is Uncontested.

A directed verdict in favor of the plaintiff was handed down in common pleas court today in the $1,271.68 judgment suit of the Peoples Savings and Loan Co. of Urbana, a corporation, against Alice Irwin Birch, Caroline P. Brumbaugh and the treasurer of Marion county.

The plaintiff's petition was filed in 1942 after a foreclosure sale of the defendant's property was not sufficient to cover a loan received from the plaintiff. The directed verdict was given after the defendants failed to appear in court to contest the suit. The judgment awarded by the court is for $1,271.68 as of Dec. 18, 1942, with interest at six per cent a year until paid.

Vance Brand of Urbana was attorney for the plaintiff and Carhart and Carhart attorneys for the defendant.

BEATS 72 TRAFFIC RAPS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 6—H. Reid Graham, Columbus rent-car agency manager, was the envy of every traffic ticket holder in police court here yesterday. Charged with 72 parking violations, he won every case. Graham told Judge Fred Donnally all the violations were committed by renters of cars, persons he could not be expected to be responsible for. Judge Donnally dismissed all 72 casse.

STRIKE ROUND WARNING GIVEN

NLRB Head Says Labor Curbs Could Start Wave of Unrest.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6 — Chairman Paul M. Herzog of the national labor relations board said today proposed changes in the Wagner collective bargaining act could set off a nationwide round of strikes.

But the U. S. Chamber of Commerce declared that "employers cannot rest easy" until congress rewrites parts of the law to wipe out any questions of its intent.

The divergent views were prepared for senate and house labor committees, both of which are considering amendments to the basic labor relations act, along with other measures designed to reduce industrial strife.

Herzog, whose job is to help administer the Wagner act, said the strike wave might materialize if all provisions of pending overhaul bills were adopted., even though "no strike could be lawful" under one of them once an employer had made a simple back-to-work offer.

Sees "Years of Uncertainty"

The NLRB chief put it this way in his statement submitted to the senate committee:

"At best, several years of uncertainty and court litigation would flow from enactment of many of the proposals that amend * * * the act.

"At worst, American workingmen and their representatives would so resent the destruction of rights they have so recently won that work stoppages would sweep the country."

The Chamber of Commerce stand was outlined for the house committee by Herman W. Steinkraus, chairman of the business organization's labor relations committee.

His testimony said "vast areas" of the Wagner act have been left to interpretation by Herzog's board.

Because of "shifts in the board's policies," he said, "the employer has never known when a long-established administrative ruling would suddenly be changed with new and unforseen results."

Lutheran Church Circle Meets at Ringer's Inn

Mrs. John Loeffert entertained the Philathea Circle of Emanuel Lutheran church Tuesday evening at Ringer's Inn. Devotions and prayer by Mrs. E. W. Koeppen opened the meeting. The circle voted to buy water glasses and tea towels for the church kitchen, and also to place a lily on the church altar at Easter.

For the program, a paper on "Things That Money Can't Buy" was given by Mrs. Raymond Gruber, and Mrs. Koeppen gave a talk on "Christian Symbols." Miss Barbara McDonald sang a solo, and two vocal duets were presented by Miss McDonald and Jack Loeffert, accompanied by Mrs. William Ackerman Jr. Prizes in contests were won by Mrs. R. W. Mapes, Mrs. C. F. Thibaut and Mrs. Harry Kull.

Public Aid Sought To Control House-to-House Solicitations

The Better Business division of the Marion Chamber of Commerce today asked for the cooperation of all Marion residents in a newly inaugurated program for controlling house-to-house solicitation.

Plans for the program were made at a meeting of the division Wednesday in the Y.M.C.A. with Kelley Vance, chairman of the division, presiding.

The warning issued to residents by the division is "Before you invest, investigate."

The division statement to residents follows:

"Any solicitors calling at your home should be requested to show their permit to solicit, signed by Mayor Harry L. Dowler, or, if they have no permit, they should be referred to the mayor's office in city hall, where they will be asked to fill out a questionnaire regarding their activity before a permit will be granted. This applies to all types of solicitations—for advertising, subscriptions, charity, or actual selling of merchandise. Over 600 Marion business firms also have these questionnaires and are using them to control their solicitation requests.

"This program is being undertaken in an effort to prevent the activity of solicitors for other than bona fide purposes. It has been the sad experience of a number of Marion residents that solicitations made of them were not all they were represented to be. Cooperation with the program will go a long way toward stopping illegitimate and fly-by-night money making schemes from succeeding in the city."

The permits pertain only to outside solicitors and are not required for agents from established Marion businesses. Residents may call the Better Business division, telephone number 6230, regarding any questionable solicitors.

LARGE AUDIENCE SEES FILMS AT LEGION POST

A large audience was present for the one and one-half hours' showing of sound moving pictures of World War II in the second of a series of programs sponsored by GI Post 584, American Legion, and the local Army recruiting office, Wednesday night in the post clubrooms.

Among the pictures shown were the actual capture of the island of Saipan, a Nazi picture depicting the purposes and plans of Adolph Hitler and his staff in conquering Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland, the hardships and complete ruin of some of their cities and homes, plus a comedy cartoon illustrating the growth of "little rumors" and a March of Time film of scenes in New England. A highlight was the showing of an exclusive film taken by a German gun camera mounted on a German plane. It showed the actual shooting down of American planes, the bailing out of crews and later their interrogation by German officers.

The pictures were shown under the direction of Captain A. L. Stevens, Jr., and Staff Sgt. L. E. Brandon. Gerald Messenger is chairman of the house committee of the post.

The next program of the series will be next Wednesday night at 8 in the clubrooms. The pictures are shown for the information of the general public to provide an opportunity for interested persons to see authentic pictures of World War II.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Definition of Our Town

Somebody defined our town just the other day as "A place where the people talk about you behind your back, and come to wait on you when you're sick."

I've got to admit there's something to it. A lot of our folks are inclined to be pretty outspoken and quick to criticize . . . even about little things like a woman's hat or a man's preference for a glass of beer, or the color of Cy Hartman's new barn.

But when anyone's in trouble, those differences and points of criticism are forgotten . . . and folks become neighborly and helpful, like they really are.

From where I sit, criticism never did much harm to anybody, so long as folks don't let it guide their actions . . . so long as they respect our individual preferences, whether they apply to hats or beer. That's the way it is in our town, anyway, and I hope that it's the same in yours.

Mrs. Eidson, 20, in a statement to police, said she killed her husband, James, 37, last Saturday while he was attempting to rape her 15-year-old sister. The statement said Eidson was drunk and "when he was drinking he was insane."

Mrs. Eidson had been held on a manslaughter charge.

RESTORATION OF CONTROL ON NEWSPRINT SUGGESTED

CIO Official Says Publishers Worse Off Than Before War.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—Thomas B. Wright, an official of the CIO, told congress yesterday that the small publisher is "far worse" off for newsprint than during the war and urged restoration of federal controls.

"The amount of newsprint the small user needs is negligible, but he can't get it," the chairman of the CIO's newsprint committee testified at a senate small business subcommittee investigation into the newsprint shortage.

From the Catholic Press Association of America came an appeal to "share the paper."

H. H. Riemer, representing the Watchtower Bible and Tract society, told the committee his organization is devoted to preaching the Gospel by the printed page and "now we can't get paper."

Riemer said he had been offered newsprint at $225 and $250 a ton, compared to the New York base price of $84.

Railway Federation Post Goes to Ohioan

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 6—Charles R. Hook Jr., of Cleveland, has been named vice president of the Federation for Railway Progress, it was announced today by Robert R. Young, rail executive who is chairman of the federation.

Hook, 32, is assistant to the president of the Chesapeake and Ohio lines, in charge of developing a personnel program.

He joined Chesapeake last July, after serving as assistant to the general manager of the Rustless Iron and Steel Corp. A director of the American Arbitration association, he also is a member of the personnel advisory council of the war department general staff. His father is president of the American Rolling Mill Co.

Delinquent parents are the reason for delinquent children, according to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, and the Friday night broadcast of "This Is Your FBI" will reveal the dramatic story of what happened to a teen age girl because of laxity on the part of her parents. It will be on the ABC network at 8:30 p. m. Friday.

Vernon Player Breaks Ankle in Cage Game

(Account of game on Page 21)

Richard Lehman, Vernon Heights Junior High school varsity basketball player suffered a broken right ankle while playing at the Vernon gymnasium in a game between Vernon and St. Mary Parochial High school.

The accident occurred when he ran into the stage at the south end of the gymnasium. He was taken to the office of Dr. C. G. Smith, where it was found that two of the bones in the ankle were fractured.

He was then taken to his home at 349 Chicago avenue.

ST. MARY CAGERS HURDLE OSTRANDER FIVE 38 TO 31

Land in Finals at Westerville; Meet Columbus Rosary Team

Duel Saturday with Crew They Defeated Once and Fell To Once.

By GEORGE KOEST

St. Mary cagers downed a stubborn and ever-threatening Ostrander five 38 to 31 in the semi-finals of the class B tournament at Westerville last night.

In the other semi-final meet Columbus Rosary had little trouble with Granville, posting a 55 to 39 win.

St. Mary and Rosary meet Saturday at 8 p. m. for the lower bracket crown.

Score Tied Twice

Ostrander got the jump on the Irish early in the first quarter and the score was tied twice before St. Mary went into an 8 to 6 lead at the end of the period. Ostrander held the lead three times in the next period but it was overcome each time and the second stop found the locals ahead 16 to 14.

After that the Irish were never headed, holding a five-point lead at the end of the third canto and increasing that to a seven point margin in the opening minutes of the last.

Ostrander then staged its final rally, narrowing things down to 31 to 28 with four minutes to go.

Stuber started the Irish scoring machine rolling again with a zigzag dribble in and the Irish pulled away to eliminate another club from the tournament.

Defensive Match

The game was more of a defensive match than offensive as St. Mary played a pressing man-for-man and Ostrander set up a tight zone. Had the Irish not kept Ostrander off balance by their play, the game might have ended differently because, when given an opportunity, the Delaware county club hit accurately.

The St. Mary and Rosary match has been pending as a potential classic since Feb. 21 when St. Mary dropped the Crusaders 45 to 37 in the last seasonal match. Prior to that Rosary had dropped them 55 to 44 early in the season.

Go Through 3 Matches

Both teams have had to go through three tournament matches to get another crack at one another and anything can happen in this next tilt.

Rosary is regarded, with the possible exception of Newark St. Francis, as the toughest the Irish have met this season. While St. Mary has had only one breather, Monroe, in the tournament, Rosary has breezed through Pleasant, Perry Township and Granville.

A fact that may be in the locals' favor is that they lost to Rosary on a small court and won from them on one about the size of the Otterbein college floor on which the match will be staged.

Rosary Has Unique Act

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 6—Columbus Rosary High school is presenting a unique act these days during the Central district class B basketball tournament at Westerville.

The small Catholic school is one of the few in the state which has an all male cast of cheerleaders. And to enhance their duties, the boys put on an exhibition of how the girls would do if they had the chance.

COUNTY JUNIOR HIGH CAGE TOURNEY SET

Opens Saturday with Second Session March 15.

A basketball tournament for junior high school boys in the county's 13 schools will be held at Morral starting Saturday at 12:30 p. m. Five games will be played in the afternoon and four more in the night session Saturday.

In the opening contest at 12:30 Meeker is matched with New Bloomington to be followed by tilts between Waldo and Pleasant at 1:30, Claridon and LaRue at 2:30; Prospect and Kirkpatrick at 3:30 and Caledonia and Morral at 4:30.

The first game of the night session at 7:00 finds Green Camp tangling with the winner of the opening afternoon game, followed by Martel versus the winner of the Waldo-Pleasant affair at 8, Grand Prairie opposing the winner of the Claridon-LaRue set at 9. The final game at 10 matches the winners of the last two afternoon contests.

The semi-finals will be held March 15 at 1:30 and 2:30 with the final game at 9 to follow a consolation final between the losers of the afternoon tilts which start at 8 p. m.

All the games in the tourney will be played on the Morral floor and an admission of 25 cents will be charged for all sessions. The quarters are to be six minutes in length and each school may carry a squad of 15 boys. No boy 17 years of age or older may play in the tourney.

High School Cagers Get Serious As Only 132 Remain

By The Associated Press

They're getting serious, these high school basketball teams trying to get into the state championship tournament. From a field which originally numbered around 1200 teams, they're down to 132 now. And 101 of those won't be in business come Saturday midnight.

Sixty-eight teams remain in the running in class B and 65 still have a chance in class A. Thursday will be a busy night for these quintets and Friday will see the heaviest concentration of sharpshooters, as nearly every team will be in action.

They're all trying to get into the regional tournaments to be held a week hence. Winners of the four regional titles then enter the finals at Columbus.

Dayton Chaminade, one of the very few teams remaining which has a losing record for the season (7-11) squeezed past Dayton Stivers Wednesday night in an overtime game, 39 to 34, and is assured of a place in the finals Saturday afternoon.

Newark In Finals

Newark, former state champion, eliminated Columbus Central 48 to 35 and goes to the finals Saturday night. Newark has won 22, lost 3. Tiltonsville 45 to 39 win over Toronto guarantees it a chance to play East Liverpool in the finals Friday at Steubenville. Celina whipped Fostoria 57 to 39 and enters Saturday's finale at Findlay, against either Findlay or Wapakoneta, who play Thursday night.

Class B play Wednesday was featured by Ridgeville's 18th win without a loss when New Lyme Deming was eliminated at Kent by a score of 76 to 28. At Westerville the finals in the lower bracket took on the aspects of a parochial tournament. Columbus Rosary (20-7) trampled Granville (18-7) by a 55 to 39 score and Marion St. Mary (18-5) disposed of Ostrander (18-2) with a 38 to 31 count. Rosary and St. Mary play for the title Saturday.

Crowds Bring Change

Crowds are packing the gymnasiums so much that the B sectional at Logan altered the schedule and played a game Wednesday instead of waiting for Thursday night. Result was there were 1,000 fans turned away a half hour before the game started. It wound up with Corning taking Rockbridge by a 48 to 38 margin.

In the Dayton B event, Phillipsburg tripped Easton 35 to 34 and Waynesville got rough with West Carrollton 30 to 27. That puts Phillipsburg (20-2) against Waynesville (18-1) for the title Saturday.

Among games to watch Thursday will be Upper Arlington's effort to win its 21st without defeat when it faces Grandview at Delaware; Cadmus with 20 wins in class B bumps into Crooksville (17-4); Middletown, defending A champs (12-7) plays Hamilton Catholic (18-2) at Dayton; Toledo Central Catholic (19-2) hits Toledo Waite (10-13) and Sylvania (11-6) meets Toledo Woodward (18-4).

A complete list of teams still in the running:

Y.M.C.A. TOURNEY TILTS SET TOMORROW

The Y.M.C.A.'s double elimination tournament will continue tomorrow night and Saturday night.

Winding up the first round Universal Cooler goes against Kirkpatrick in a tilt starting at 8 and Sally Ann Inn takes on the Buckeyes in the first on the upper floor.

Games to be played tomorrow night at 9 are Guy's against Stones on the lower boards and Houpt Memorial against Green Camp K. of P. on the upper. These are second round games and no teams participating in them has been set back in the tournament.

Saturday night Carroll's meet Smith's in the opener on the lower and the winner of the Stones-Guy's match plays the winner of the Houpt-Green Camp fray in the next match. Opening on the upper, the winner of the Cooler-Kirk meet jousts with the winner of the Sally Ann-Buckeye game. Morral Supply plays the Marion Challengers in the last game on the upper floor and as each of these teams have dropped one tilt in the meet the loser will be scratched from the listings.

11 O.S.U. Cagers Get Varsity "O" Awards

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 6—Varsity "O's" were awarded 11 members of Ohio State university's basketball squad here last night.

Recipients were Capt. Paul Huston of Xenia; Warren Amling, Pana, Ill.; Bob Bowen, Martins Ferry; Don Bonham, Hammond, Ind.; Jim Harris of East Liverpool, Neil Johnston of Chillicothe, Jack Pfeiffer of Toledo, Jack Underman of Columbus, Jim Wells, Middletown, Wayne Wells, Lima, and Bob Winters, Xenia.

Jim Delcone of Columbus, student manager, also received a monogram.

The Buckeyes won seven games while losing 13 during the season.

Wrestles Jap On Double Main Event Card Tonight

Two ninety minute matches which should please all the Marion wrestling fans are the menu for the Marion Armory tonight starting at 8:30. Probably what may turn out to be one of the roughest matches of the season will be when Rufus Jones, the rough colored hombre from New York will try to take the mask off (one way or another) of the Mystery Man. This Mystery Man has shown Marion fans that he is about as rough and tough as they come but on the other hand Rufus has proved just about the same thing.

The other main event should be just the opposite for Duke Keomuka, the clever Jap will meet Indio Yaqui, the Mexican Indian. This is the most colorful match ever booked in Marion, a Jap wrestling a full blooded Indian. Both men are well known in Marion and should have a great match.

A twenty minute tag team match will serve the opener at 8:30 between Jack Millington and Dick Merton against Don Temple and Bob White, four of the larger boys. Call 2745 after six for your best ringside seats.—Adv.

Boxing-Hungry Fans Gobble Up Golden Gloves Reserved Seats

Boxing-hungry Marionites made a bee-line for Markert and Lewis store yesterday at 1 p. m. when reserved seat ticket sales opened for the Golden Gloves show next Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

Harley Lewis, co-proprietor, said more than 100 tickets were sold within the first two hours. Sales were continuing at a rapid pace today.

Reserved seat tickets are $1.50. General admission seats, which will be sold only at the door of the armory, are $1.

Officials Named

Y's Men's Service club officials, meanwhile, announced that referees and judges for the bouts have been picked. Referees will be Dr. A. J. Wagner and Jimmy Williams. Dr. Wagner is former St. Mary High school athletic coach and is prominent in Marion athletic circles. Mr. Williams is a former professional fighter and now operates a gym in the downtown district. He has been active in training the fighters.

Judges are Don Burton, LaRue High school coach; R. G. Smallwood, Arthur Snyder and Ike Jones of Marion.

Fights To Be Aired

Arrangements have been made to broadcast the fights. They will be aired by Don Sherwood, WMRN announcer, at the following times: Monday, 8:30 to 9 and 9:30 to 10; Wednesday, 8 to 8:30 and 9 to 9:30; Friday, 9 to 10.

Seven new entries announced today are Delbert Worden of Hudson court, 134 pounds; Charles Thompson of 325 Olney street, 104; George Earhart of near Marion, 130; Raleigh Johnson of 621 Ballentine avenue, 130; Samuel Camah of 427 Park street, 140; Willie Dixon of 602 Jefferson street, 125; and Roger Lee May of 296 North State street, 55½.

Southpaws Have Day In Tribe Squad Game

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz., March 6—The Cleveland Indians' first intra-squad game yesterday was featured by excellent southpaw pitching by Gene Bearden and Les Willis.

Beardon, former property of the New York Yankees who snared 15 games for Oakland last year, hurled five innings and allowed only three hits.

Willis, who won 18 games, mostly in relief roles, for Memphis in 1946, allowed no hits during a four-inning turn on the rubber.

Williams Shows Up; Makes Bosox Camp Opening Official

By The Associated Press

SARASOTA, Fla., March 6 — Ted Williams pulled his new car to a screaming stop and stepped out into the bright sunshine. The Boston Red Sox officially has opened spring training. He was lean and tan after two months fishing in the Everglades.

In keeping with a quaint Williams custom, Teddy arrived late yesterday afternoon, hours after the regular workout and three days after the rest of the team reported. He mumbled something about being caught in the heavy traffic and visiting a reptile farm but nobody paid much attention. The team had arrived.

"Are you going to try hitting to left field this year?" a reporter asked.

"I'm not going to change my style," the Splendid Splinter replied as he eased into a pair of knee length woolen socks. "It all depends on what they do to me. If they pile too many men into right field, I'll have to do something.

"I think the club agrees with me that I am most valuable hitting that home run when I can. If it means the ball game for me to hit for the homer, that's what I'm going to try to do. I think I owe it to the club."

Agriculture Reorganization Bill In New Version Up for Hearing

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 6—Relegated to the position of an administration step-child, the revamped bill reorganizing the state agriculture department was called for hearing again today as the Ohio legislature wound up another week of lawmaking.

Deleted from the measure is all reference to the controversial issues of six-year terms for the board's executive secretary and five division chiefs of the department.

The changes were made at a five-hour meeting of the state board of agriculture Tuesday after Gov. Thomas J. Herbert had denounced six-year terms.

As redrafted the measure would make Edwin J. Bath, former Farm Bureau lobbyist recently appointed executive secretary of a proposed expanded board of 12 members, subject to service at the pleasure of the director rather than for a fixed term.

Bath now serving an emergency 30-day appointment pending final passage of the agriculture bill, would be both state fair manager and special assistant to Agriculture Director Frank N Farnsworth under the proposed legislation.

Gets First Pay Check

Bath received his first salary payment yesterday on the basis of $8 000 a year when State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson released his check It had been held up since Feb 1 Farnsworth had certified Bath's pay on the basis of $8,600 annually

The house of representatives received a committee request for passage of a county district library bill while senators honored their 77-year-old floor leader, Sen Frank E. Whittemore of Akron

Bearing the education committee's approval, the bill by Rep Robert W Dunkle (R-Ross) requires that public libraries established after next Jan 1 be on a county-wide basis only It also would recodify Ohio's 125-year-old library laws

The measure was reported out by the committee at last night's hearing by a vote of 13-0

Honor Senate Leader

The senate presented its floor leader and president pro tempore Sen Whittemore, with a scroll in honor of his 77th birthday before conducting a brief working session

Both houses called for adjournment over the weekend upon completing the day's business

Veterans' bonuses and strip mining controls attracted a full share of attention at legislative hearings

A deadlock developed in the senate conservation committee hearing on the merits of two measures to regulate strip mining

Sen George G Shurtz (R-Coshocton) contended that his bill to control only coal stripping was superior to that of Sen Clingan Jackson (D-Mahoning) which included other minerals, sand and gravel

Summing up, Shurtz asserted Jackson's bill wasn't strict enough, wouldn't get results or solve the problem and "furthermore it probably can't be passed."

Jackson Defends Proposal

Jackson defended his proposal as the result of about two years of study by the Ohio strip mining commission established by the legislature.

The house passed measures permitting use of photographic records as evidence and allowing counties to share in maintenance of a joint county home.

Passed by the senate were bills authorizing payment of claims on dog and kennel funds five days after their approval by county commissioners, and to establish reserve lists for about 300 members of the state guard and naval militia

The senate public health committee's first hearing on a bill to permit establishment of a minimum price schedule for barbers and beauticians produced arguments both for and against the proposal.

Frank Blazina, president of the state board of barber examiners, asserted a minimum price set-up would not guarantee better sanitary conditions Shops charging $1 for hair cuts are cited daily for unsanitary conditions, he told the committee

Testifying for the proposal were Harry P. Snyder and Kenneth McClure, both of Mansfield, and Hiram Revenaugh of Toledo.

Introduced in the senate was a bill by Sens I E Baker (R-Montgomery) and William Tyrrell (R-Preble) authorizing the Dayton municipal court to add a fourth judge to handle traffic cases.

Change in Upper Fire Truck Parking Asked

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, March 6 —A suggestion received from South Sandusky avenue residents by city councilhere, asking that one of the two municipal fire trucks be stationed somewhere south of the Pennsylvania railroad, today had been referred for investigation to a committee including councilman C. M. Benston and Fred Mitsch

John Welter, spokesman for the southenders, pointed out the many times the local crossings are blocked for several minutes by long freight trains and switching operations Better fire protection would be afforded residents south of the tracks if one of the trucks was stationed in a garage in that end of town, he added.

SEÑOR PLUMA, I HAVE LOOKED UPON THE YANKEE, CANYON! HE SITS IN HIS ROOM READING A BOOK— A LARGE BOOK!
AH! THEN HE IS NOT LIKELY TO INTERFERE TONIGHT! KEEP HIS DOOR IN VIEW!
SEÑORITA CALHOON, I WAS ALARMED WHEN YOU WENT SO AVIDLY TO YOUR BUSINESS TODAY, BUT TONIGHT YOU ARE AGAIN THE RAVISHING BEAUTY—
I LIKE BEING FLATTERED, SEÑOR PLUMA!
THE TRUTH IS NEVER FLATTERY, MY NIGHT BLOSSOM! SHALL WE WALK ON THE TERRACE WHERE YOUR SCENT WILL PIT THE PERFUME OF THE FLOWERS TO SHAME?
MMM-HMM.
OH... RAIN!

Blondie By Chic Young

FURS ARE GOING DOWN— YOU CAN GET A TWO-THOUSAND DOLLAR COAT FOR A THOUSAND DOLLARS
YOU'RE ALWAYS TALKING ABOUT SAVING MONEY—HERE'S OUR CHANCE TO SAVE A THOUSAND DOLLARS
BUT I HAVE TO SPEND A THOUSAND TO GET THE FUR COAT
BUT YOU SAVED A THOUSAND—SO THE COAT IS ACTUALLY FREE!

HOLD STILL, SHERIFF !!
I HATE TO TELL YOU, SQUINT, BUT THE RUSTLERS DROVE OFF EVERY WHALE YOU HAD !!
THE WHALE CORRAL'S EMPTY !!
WHALE RUSTLERS, EH ?!
WHALE RUSTLERS !!
WHAT !! YOU AIN'T GOT ANY WHALES LEFT ??
JUST THE MOMMA WHALE !!
TOM SIMS
THAT REMINDS ME, SIR— I CAME HERE TO GET HER — BUT I COULDN'T ASK A MAN TO SELL ME HIS LAST WHALE !!
NO, I WON'T SELL HER— I'LL GIVE HER TO YOU !!

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I DOFFED a mental chapeau to Olga, as I have done many times in my friendship with Philip Veritzen's wife, exiled queen of Transvania. With innate tact, buttressed by long years of experience, she had struck exactly the right note to put Mary, her stepson's wife, at ease, when she had said: "Welcome home!"

Dicky, Mary's uncle who adores her, in clumsy masculine fashion, had said: "I'm still waiting to hear the reason for your coming home," and, but for my quick banishment of him would have sent her into a hysterical fit of sobbing. But Olga, in two heartfelt words had made up for his lack of tact.

"Oh, Mother!" Mary was in Olga's arms now, and was hugging her husband's stepmother with eager young arms "How sweet of you to say that when I've been such a heel! I'm only realizing just now how many degrees a heel I've been But I'm afraid Dad isn't echoing you sentiments."

More Confidence

"He will, dear child," Olga assured her with more confidence than I believed she felt. "You must give him time to get used to the idea that you're home."

"But we can't give this tea any more time," I interrupted firmly. "It's been brewed far too long as it is."

"But it's not!" Mary said as we seated ourselves around the table, and I took the tea cozy from the pot. "And do I ever need something straight from the well-known heated place!

"I couldn't eat a thing on the plane," she said, and with an effort I kept my eyes from anxiously meeting Olga's. "And I kept having the darndest chills. Gee, I'm glad to get this down!"

Drains the Cup

She drained her cup, passed it back to me for more. But before I filled it, I rose quickly, bent over and kissed her forehead, then lifted the hand nearest me and pressed my lips to the palm of it.

Mary looked up at me with eyes in which mirth was mingled with reminiscent tenderness.

"The old bologna," she said "How many times you used to do that to see whether I had a temperature or not! And when you took it afterward with a regular clinical thermometer, it always bore out your palm—and—forehead-kissing tests. Where's the little old clinical? And how'm I doin' anyway?"

"The thermometer is where I can get at it very easily," I told her serenely. "If I'd have thought of it I would have taken your temperature before you drank your tea."

"And depriving me of my tea would have sent my temperature up at least three degrees," she told me "Pretty, pretty, please. I want anther cup before I tackle those scrumptious little sandwiches."

Noted Her Thirst

I noted her thirst with the uneasiness which the touch of her forehead and lips had given me They had been hot and dry, not alarmingly so, but I would have wagered much that she had at least a degree of temperature.

"I'm not going to bother you now," I told her, "but after we've had our tea, you're going to stretch out on the couch for awhile, and then before you go down to your apartment, I'm going to shove a thermometer between your lips."

"Okay, okay!" she said. "See if I care. If I do have a fourth of a degree of temperature, it's because I'm famished. Oh, boy, but these caviar and anchovy gadgets are good!"

Would Have Refused

I was glad to see her demolish them, even though I was sure that she would have refused anything except the tidbits of which she so long has been deprived. I did not worry about their digestibility Any temperature Mary might have stemmed from her nerves, and the chills she had had—not her stomach. I would have wagered much upon that point.

We finished our tea, and I tucked her in on my studio couch, and covered her with a colorful afghan which years ago, in a spurt of enthusiastic domesticity and affection, she had knitted for me, and which is one of my choicest treasures.

"Try to doze off a bit," I told her. "We'll waken you in plenty of time for you to get down to your apartment before Noel comes home."

"But you'll come with me, both of you, won't you?" she pleaded surprisingly "I don't want to see him alone I'm afraid he'll go for me, the way Uncle Dicky did, and if he does, I won't know whether to kiss him or to scratch his eyes out."

And Nothing Can Be Done About It By H. T. Webster

WE WERE TALKING ABOUT BILL MIZNER TODAY AND SOMEONE TOLD A STORY ABOUT HIM I NEVER HEARD BEFORE
ONCE WHEN HE WAS INVITED TO LECTURE BEFORE A WOMAN'S CLUB, MIZNER TOLD AN ATTENDANT TO BE SURE TO PLACE A PITCHER OF WATER AND A GLASS ON THE SPEAKER'S TABLE
"DO YOU WANT IT FOR DRINKING?" SHE ASKED. "NO," SAID MIZNER. "I DO A HIGH-DIVING ACT."
THAT SOUNDS SILLY TO ME. HOW COULD HE POSSIBLY DIVE INTO A GLASS OF WATER?
